Rogers Points Out That Party Lines Still Hold Tight

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 16.—See where Mr. Lowden now is complimenting Hoover and on the other side Charley Bryan, brother of W. J's, and also Josephus Daniels, the man that took the cocktail shakers off the navy, are out for Al.

They say he is accused of being a wet, but he has never been accused of being a Republican.

All of which shows that when the votes are counted this fall that every party man will be about where he generally is. No matter how bad any candidate is, he can't possibly be as bad as the opposing party.

Yours,

WILL.

P. S.—Hoover will be here today. I hope he promises us Boulder Dam.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Keeping a howling dog tied up in the back yard, to the annoyance of the entire neighborhood, is Pa Newc's idea of infringing upon the rights of citizenship in New Castle. It is being done in numerous instances in New Castle at the present time, and is a real neighborhood nuisance. Police action is imminent.

The weatherman certainly believes in handing it out in overdoses this year. Following the two months of incessant rainfall in June and July, the excessively hot weather period was reached, and for the past couple of weeks it has been the program almost daily. Looks like another today.

State department of agriculture sleuths are in the city making an investigation as to whether or not the Japanese beetle has arrived in this part of the state. The pest is quite noticeable in the eastern end of the state and in other sections. Plans are being made to check the advance of the pest into this section.

Maple trees in the city are taking on a peculiar hue. In many cases the leaves are turning sort of a rusty color.

Naturally, Pa Newc's observations yesterday turned to the Old-Timers' picnic. The crowd was large and the weather terribly hot, but the old folks danced even harder as the hours sped by. Talk about old people having no stamina and your statement would be disproved yesterday.

As Pa Newc went about talking to old couples here and there and getting their ideas and views on things, he also asked for the ages. Contrary to the age-old belief of the hoi polloi, the average woman told her age without a quivering lip and half meant eye. Only two cases were found when the ladies hesitated and refused to tell how many years they had been doing the quadrilles.

A man down by the registering post told Pa Newc that he heard one young lady who came up to register exclaim, "Oh, do I really have to tell my age?" Well, she told it, and the young lady was only 85!

The Civil War veterans held a meeting down in the grove yesterday at the reunion. The ranks are thinning down rapidly any more.

A number of young and middle-aged people attended the Old-Timers' reunion. They seemed to enjoy the dancing of the old folks on the park pavilion. It won't be so long till some of them will be doing the same stunt, and they will be the old-timers.

Pa Newc got a decided kick in the risibles and solar plexus listening to the music yesterday. It was fine. The old-time music will give a person the cleanest and happiest feeling of any music ever written. Benjamin Franklin said that, and Pa Newc agrees heartily with him. Pa Newc wanted to go out on the floor and try a whirl, but felt that the old-timers should have the floor with no botheration from those younger. Secretly he was afraid that they would outstep him.

A group of the Reynoldstown people who had their old-time picnic Tuesday attended the doings at the park yesterday. They have their Rev-

Thirteen Miners Die In Explosion In Coalport Mine

Only One Of Group Of Miners In Blast Escapes Alive

RECOVER ALL OF BODIES AFTER SEVERAL HOURS

Explosion Occurs Just As Men Are Preparing To Leave Mine

(International News Service)

COALPORT, Pa., Aug. 16.—With 13 miners killed in a gas explosion at the number 3 mine of the Irvona Coal and Coke Company at Blain City, near here, late yesterday, federal and state mine bureau officials today examined the blast-torn workings where 152 other men narrowly escaped with their lives.

After a check-up today, company officials said that 165 men had gone down with the day shift. Of this number, most of the men were well on their way out before the blast let go.

Mrs. Mary Simons, Auto Accident Victim, is Slightly Improved

TWO BODIES SENT TO TOLEDO, OHIO

Bodies of Miss Julia Simons, 41 Nevada street, Toledo, O., and Mrs. Mary Farrell, 2337 Valentine street, Toledo, O., victims of the terrible automobile accident of Tuesday afternoon near Parkstown Corners were shipped at 1:37 p. m. today over the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad to their respective homes in Toledo, O., where funeral services will be held Monday morning and interment made.

Condition of the three other persons in the car who were injured, is improved. Mrs. Mary Simons, mother of the others in the car, including the two dead women, was reported late today by the Shenango Valley hospital authorities to be somewhat improved although quite severely injured. She had gained consciousness it was said.

Charles Simons is still in the New Castle hospital on account of his injuries, but is improving, it was stated by the hospital authorities today. John Simons was able to leave the hospital yesterday, his injuries not proving very serious.

In connection with the recovery of consciousness by Mrs. Simons it is learned that she answers people and recognizes them but up to the present time she seems to have no recollection of the accident or the children

Water Street Open For All Traffic; Parking Banned

Water street will be open to traffic proceeding in both directions beginning today, announces Chief of Police C. C. Horner, who further explains that a rule banning parking on the street will also be in effect.

From the new home of the Central Fire department on South Jefferson street to Washington street, another rule which states that on the east side of the street, automobiles must park parallel with the curb will also be enforced.

These two changes in regulations are made necessary by the moving of the fire station from East street to South Jefferson street.

Republican Campaign Plans In New York State Upset By Death Of Chairman

WOMAN IN CHARGE OF DETAILS NOW

Sudden Death Of Prominent New York State Republican Is Serious Blow

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Republican campaign plans for the state of New York were upset, at least temporarily, today as a result of the sudden and unexpected death of George K. Morris, the aggressive chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, who had already assumed the major role in the party's great attempt to defeat Governor Al Smith in his own state.

Woman In Charge

Because the major plans of the campaign in the Empire State had already been worked out in a series of conferences between state leaders, and because Morris himself had a large part in shaping these plans, it is inevitable, in the opinion of some of the important Republican leaders here, that at least ten days will be required for the routine of assembling the state committee to elect a successor. Two weeks more probably will be required for the reassignment of the campaign burdens and the new personalities.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16.—"I decline to be promoted, demoted, transferred or resign."

John D. Pennington, prohibition administrator for western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, today replied to reports that his "promotion" to other fields of activity was being urged by local political forces in Washington.

"That report is, in my opinion, a deliberate attempt to break down the morale of my organization," Pennington said in an exclusive statement to International News Service.

"I have denied that report at least once a month ever since I came here two years ago. These constantly recurring rumors of a change in the administrative head of the prohibition forces is a deliberate attempt to break down the morale of my force.

Mail Steamer Is Reported Aground

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The Panama mail steamer Ecuador was reported aground at Cape San Lazaro, 950 miles south of the Golden Gate according to an S. O. S. radio signel picked up at 4 a. m. by the Mackay Telegraph company.

Cape San Lazaro is a jut out from a rock stretch of coast on the Pacific side of California.

No immediate aid was needed according to the ship's master, said radio dispatches. But few other ships could be located in the vicinity. One of these was thought to be steaming to the aid of the Ecuador.

Hoover Prepares For Hard Battle; Is Heading East

Believes That So-Called "Silent Vote" Will Be Big Factor In Election

IN LOS ANGELES FOR PARADE FRIDAY

Will Direct Campaign From Headquarters To Be Opened In Washington

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Aug. 16.—Convinced that he can be elected to the presidency only by winning the Independents to his cause, Herbert Hoover will start east tonight to wage a campaign for the socalled "silent vote" of the country.

The Republican nominee will strive to capture the support of women's organizations, the organized forces of social reform and the business element, which frequently ignores elections. He will seek to arouse the interest of that large class of Americans, who take their politics lightly and who go to the ballot box but seldom. If he can get them to the polls and persuade them to vote Republican, Hoover feels assured of the election.

Campaign Strategy.

The Republican candidate indicated the strategy of his campaign in his acceptance speech, when he devoted large portions of his address to the subjects of social reform and child welfare. He made a special plea, in fact, to the women of the country, urging them to take an interest in politics generally and in the presidential election especially. After declaring the problems of America were "moral and spiritual" to a "much greater degree" than economic, Hoover added: "The participation of women in politics means a keener realization of the importance of these questions. It means higher political standards."

To Wage Hard Battle.

Hoover has discounted all reports of his followers that he will win "in a walk." He rather has heeded the advice of those lieutenants who tell him he must wage a hard battle to win the election. Hoover will get back to Washington, prepared to make "three or four" key speeches, at strategic points in eastern and border line states.

The nominee at present plans an "office campaign." He will open of-

OLD TIMERS AGAIN MINGLE TOGETHER

Large Crowd At Cascade Park For Annual Reunion Of Pioneers

Grand March In Pavilion Is Big Feature Of Day's Program

Gray hair, wrinkles and bent shoulders—

Those were badges of honor at Cascade Park Wednesday, where thousands of Old-Timers, so called because they were the pioneers of Lawrence county, gathered once again in happy reunion.

They traveled to the park, some from points in California, Florida and Canada, to further cement friendships made when John wore knee-breeches and Lucy spruced her hair with a red ribbon.

It was a great day for the Old-Timers' picnic, first because the sun in all its radiancy bore down with a smile and thousands of persons found it convenient to participate in the get-together.

As early as nine a. m. automobiles pushed their way along the highways, and in a few instances horse and carriage were used as a means of conveyance to the park.

Prepare for Grand March

At one o'clock the caravan of honored folk commenced its pilgrimage toward Rainbow Terrace, where Colonel Dan Mooney was in charge of the grand march.

Drys Winners In Ohio Voting

Win In Both Republican And Democratic Party Primary Contests

COOPER WINS OUT OVER JAMES BEGG

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 16.—Complete returns from the state of Ohio indicate that the drys won a decisive victory in the state wide primary held on Tuesday, August 14. Both candidates for governor, Myers T. Cooper of Cincinnati, O., on the Republican ticket and Congressman Martin L. Davey of Kent, O., Democrat, are dry, and the majority of the other candidates named on both tickets had the endorsement of the dry element.

Late returns showed Cooper had a vote of 259,725 against 254,157 for Congressman James Begg of Sandusky, O., whose friends protested against the Anti-Saloon League's failure to endorse him after the league had endorsed Cooper. For a time it appeared that Begg was the winner but returns from down state overcame this.

Two Boys Burned To Death, Resort Building Damaged

Two Youngsters Are Burned To Death In Casino Building Near Wilkes-Barre

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 16.—Two boys were burned to death when fire destroyed the casino at Harvey's Lake, a summer resort, near here early today.

The boys, according to reports reaching here, were employed in the bowling alleys and were asleep on the second floor of the building. They were trapped before they were able to flee from the blazing structure. The identity of the two victims has not been established.

The flames spread through the large wooden structure quickly, cutting off all avenues of escape. The Grotto, an adjoining building, was also damaged. Fire departments from nearby communities responded to calls for aid and after an hour's battle brought the flames under control. Cause of the blaze has not been determined

North Carolina Combats Floods; Traffic Halted

Rivers Swollen By Torrential Rains Reported Rising One Foot An Hour

RAILROAD SERVICE IS AT STANDSTILL

No Lives Have Been Reported Lost In Floods To Date; Landslides Block Railway

(International News Service)

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 16.—All train service on the Southern Railway between Asheville, Salisbury and Spartanburg was stopped today due to landslides and washouts caused by torrential rains in this section during the past few days.

The French, Broad and Swannonoa rivers were rising at the rate of one foot an hour and were reported to be out of their banks at several points. Numbers of families have been driven from their homes in the lowlands as a result of the flood. Authorities are warning people who live along the rivers to abandon their homes.

A landslide between Old Fort and Ridge Crest covered the railway tracks and halted traffic.

Southern Railway officials said it probably would be 24 hours before a train could be moved on the line between Asheville and Salisbury, but they hoped to have the line open to Spartanburg late today.

No lives have been lost.

Investigate New Supposed Message From Amundsen

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The Norwegian consul at Amsterdam is inclined to believe that the message found in a bottle off the Dutch coast at the beginning of the week, bearing the signature of Capt. Roald Amundsen, is authentic, said a dispatch from The Hague to the Daily Mail today. The message had been sent to Mrs. Amundsen in Norway for comparison with the missing explorer's hand writing. The message was first received with skepticism because of the incomplete location it gave.

Capt. Roald Amundsen and five companions have never been heard from since they hopped off at Tromsoe, Norway, on June 18, in a French seaplane to give aid to the stranded Nobile explorers.

Leave Rockford On Proposed Air Trip To Sweden

Cramer And Hassell Begin First Lap Of Projected Ocean Flight

WILL STOP OVER AT COCHRANE, ONTARIO

Large Crowd Witnesses Take-Off At Rockford Early This Morning

(International News Service)

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 16.—Undismayed by tragedy, which featured their first hop-off several weeks ago, Bert R. J. Hassell, veteran Rockford aviator, and Parker D. Cramer of Clarion, Pa., took off in their Stinson monoplane, "The Greater Rockford", early today for a scheduled flight to Stockholm, Sweden, by way of Greenland.

A crowd of several thousand swarmed the airport as the big plane was wheeled into position. Hassell climbed into the cabin, waved his arm and yelled to friends and relatives: "We're going to make it this time."

The nose of the ship was turned to the wind, the motors roared and the Greater Rockford swept down the long runway and lifted lazily into the eastern sky.

Second Effort

Several weeks ago, a few minutes after the plane had taken off, Hassell and Cramer crashed into a cornfield. Undaunted, they repaired the plane and today planned to consummate a flight they had prepared for more than two years.

It became necessary, however, to change the itinerary with a stop scheduled at Cochrane, Ontario, instead of a non-stop hop to the tip of Greenland and thence over the northern circle route to Sweden. The new plan will enable the aviators to carry a lesser load of gasoline, minimizing chances of being forced down because of excessive weight.

The eyes of Rockford followed the

Tanker Ligonier Rescues Four Other Passengers Aboard Tri-Motored Plane

(International News Service)

KEY WEST, Fla., Aug. 16—A strong gale that swept out of the Gulf of Mexico took the Pan-American Airways plane General Machado, wrecked off the west coast of Florida last night, more than 120 miles off her route, air line officials said here today.

Charles Eggston, of Atlantic City, a passenger, died aboard the American tanker Ligonier from injuries received when the plane landed in the water.

Robert H. Fatt, pilot, was injured.

Only the presence of the tanker saved the lives of the other four hands aboard the ship, as the tri-motored Fokker land plane could not have floated on the water for any length of time.

This was the same plane that has maintained Cuba-United States air mail schedule between Key West and Havana for the past ten months. General Harry New, sister ship, hopped off this morning at eight o'clock for Havana with the regular mail.

Ellwood Man Is Granted Patent

Tray For Bread Cooling Machine Is Patented By Charles Adams

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16.—Charles A. Adams of Ellwood City has just been granted a patent by the United States Patent Office on his tray for bread-cooling machines.

This is a bread-carrying tray in a bread-cooler. It is made upon driving chains and operating sockets, and each face of the tray is adapted to hold the bread. The tray upon tilting slides the bread in a receptacle.

Eight claims of patentable features were recognized in this device, part interest in which has been assigned to the Matthews Gravity Carrier Company of Ellwood.

The application was filed February 15, 1924.

noldstown reunion the day before Old-Timers' day and thus get in two reunions together, which, according to Pa Newc's way of thinking, is not so bad.

Have you been up on Craig street lately? Flowers of most every nature are growing along the sidewalk near the intersection of Craig and Jefferson and they are getting the sidewalk covered. It gives one the impression that he is in a garden.

The steam shovel is tearing quite a hole out at Vogan street, if you have happened to notice. It won't be such a great while until it is paved. They are getting a lot of street work done in New Castle now.

The charities associations are cooperating now and they are holding meetings every week. According to reports from the central office, the new plan is working out splendidly and all are glad that such unison came to pass.

Many are of the belief that we are in for a long dry spell now after the recent storms and cold weather for a few days following. Some of the old-timers say that this is the sign for it, so look out for a dry spell. (If it rains between the time this is written and The News goes to press, disregard this notice!)

Not many of the Old Timers had the courage to try the gorge ride at the park yesterday. But then there were a few young old timers who did, and they yelled like frightened flappers.

While most of the Old Timers spent their time in the dance hall, there were a few, more philosophical perhaps, who were content to sit on benches about the park, all alone, and thing of other Old Timers' picnics when they were a trifle younger than they are now. To Pa Newc these are by far the most interesting people. They usually have a story to tell, if one can get at it. And the story is interspersed by the hailing of old friends, and "do you remember when . . . ?"

And yet those who went to the dance pavilion could see that the young idea has many things to learn from those who are a very great deal older. For when it comes to square dancing, in all of its many forms, the so-called younger set does not have a chance. They cannot compete, so they stand on the sidelines and merely watch, sometimes cheering a particularly agile old fellow.

Esther's granddaddy wanted his name in the paper with the rest of the Old Timers. Last year he had his name there, and this year, for all his 81 years, he could not see why it should not be there again. So Esther waited on the midway. She could tell a reporter when she saw one. Finally a newshawk breezed past, and Esther grabbed him by the pant leg, ushering him to the grove, where her grandfather was ensconced on an Indian blanket. And there granddaddy gave his name, told the year of his birth, but also confessed that he had never been an old soldier.

For the last time the veterans of the Civil war met in connection with the Old Timers reunion. For many years they have gathered at the midway, and to the shrill pipings of the fife and the rattle of drums, they have marched to the bandstand, where their annual meeting took place. Roll call was answered in squeaky voices. Sometimes shaky hands brushed tears from dim eyes as veterans thought of the days that were past. And sometimes old hearts could not stand the strain and veterans toppled off the benches. These men saved the Union once, and in their hearts is the everlasting spirit: the fire to do it again if aged limbs would support young hearts and young ideas. To these men, Pa Newc bids good-bye. At next year's reunion they will be missed.

Friday evening the staff of the Lawrence Savings & Trust company will celebrate at The Castleton. A dinner will be served to more than 80 persons, celebrating the completion and pending the opening of the new addition to the old building.

fices in a private home near his own, in the fashionable "Northwest" residential section of the capital. It has been rumored here that Mrs. Hoover declined to let her home be turned into an office not even for a presidential candidate so Hoover was forced to arrange for offices in a neighbor's home. From this headquarters, he will conduct his campaign, making a small number of trips for his speeches at strategic points during the heat of the campaign.

To Leave For East.

Hoover rested here today, awaiting the departure of his train for the east at 10 o'clock tonight. He will reach Santa Barbara tomorrow morning, for a motor tour of the famous Spanish missions in that city. He will reach Los Angeles at 1 o'clock, participate in a public reception at the City Hall and go on to attend the Pacific Southwest exposition at Long Beach later in the afternoon.

He will spend Saturday at the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. His proposed visit to his running mate, Senator Charles Curtis, at Topeka, Kas., has been cancelled because the senator will leave his home Sunday to keep an engagement in the east.

Hoover, however, will reach Kansas City Monday, and his birthplace, West Branch, Iowa, early Tuesday morning. He will spend that day, Wednesday and Thursday in Iowa and hopes to reach Washington by Saturday afternoon.

any truth in it, but there is to be no change here.

No Change Planned

"There is no movement afoot in Washington to transfer me. I am not to be promoted, transferred nor will I resign."

Pennington's statement came after reports were given circulation here that his successor already had been chosen in Washington.

The administrator refused to be ruffled by the report. He said that he felt that what he described as attempts to break down his staff's morale would not be effective.

While no one could be found here who would stand back of the report of his removal, rumors persisted of an attempt by politicians to "make a deal in Washington".

Headlined stories of the report in newspapers reaching Pennington's desk brought only a joking retort from the former U. S. naval commander.

He concluded his brief statement with this:

"I see the Pirates play at home today."

big monoplane as it became an indistinct blur in the haze of early morning. For Rockford and every person in the city had built the plane.

School children donated their lunch money, merchants gave from their cash register. Everyone added their little bit of money, which eventually created the lump sum necessary to construct the plane and buy supplies for the flight. Their hopes dashed when the plane crashed several weeks ago, the Chamber of Commerce again solicited funds and the Greater Rockford was repaired.

Hassell and his New York manager, Cramer, hope to provide a new air lane to Europe by making the flight, a lane minimizing the hazards experienced in other trans-Atlantic hops. The longest water journey will be only 550 miles.

From Rockford the big Stinson will fly over Green Lake and Green Bay, Wis.; Sault Ste. Marie on Lake Superior and on to Cochrane, which Hassell hopes to reach tonight. Thence the plane will fly to James Bay, southern extension of Hudson Bay, near Moose Factory. Then the giant craft will head over practically uninhabited land to the promonotory of Labrador at Cape Chidley and thence to Mount Evans observatory on Greenland, where gasoline and oil await the aviators.

The entire election seems to have demonstrated that the people of Ohio are politically dry and those candidates opposing the present Prohibition laws, were for the most part defeated.

There is a growing belief that the next cabinet, also will consist of Mellon.

George McCae, of Pittsburgh, representing the Federal Mines Bureau and Ira H. Thomas, deputy state inspector of mines, were at the scene of the blast today.

Only One Escapes.

Of the fourteen men who were at work nearly three miles from the mine mouth when the blast let go, only one, Mareno Coccia, 37, escaped the full force of the explosion and came out alive.

The fact that the day shift had started out of the workings shortly before the blast probably averted a greater death toll. Most of the men were well started toward the mouth of the mine when they heard the explosion.

Several of them said that they thought the dull, re-echoing detonation was the explosion of a generator. A short time later, however, the telltale sweeping wave of heat followed, and they fled for their lives.

Bodies Recovered.

The bodies of the thirteen men were recovered several hours later. All apparently had been struck by the full force of the blast, many stripped of clothing.

The explosion took the lives of two brothers, James and Ray Hunt, of Irvona, and those of a father and son, Tony and Ed. Abaranavich, of Coalport.

As nearly as could be determined early today, the fourteen men were just finishing work preparatory to the long trip back to daylight when the blast let go. Cusory examination of the mine failed to determine the cause for the blast, but condition of the bodies indicated that none lived long after the explosion.

The first of the rescue crews to reach the men reported that a spark of life remained in one of them, but this was short-lived.

By a queer twist of fate, had the men left their workings at exactly the time they were due to start for the mine mouth, there is a possibility they would have escaped death. Coccia, the only one of the group at the scene of the blast, was the first to quit work, and he had started well on his way down the entryway when the blast let go.

To Start Probe.

COALPORT, Pa., Aug. 16.—Formal investigation of the explosion at the No. 3 mine of the Irvona Coal & Coke company at Blain City in which 13 men lost their lives, will begin tomorrow with attaches of the state bureau of mines in charge, it was announced here this afternoon.

The mine, from which 152 other men escaped shortly before the blast, was not badly damaged, examination today revealed, and except for a small amount of debris, there was no work connected with getting it in shape for operation again. Work will be resumed as soon as the state concludes its examination.

Meantime, the bodies of the 13 victims have been returned to their homes for burial. Although no official announcement was forthcoming, it was not thought likely that joint services will be held for the victims, inasmuch as their homes are in several coal camps near here.

Rescue crews which hurried here at first word of the explosion have returned to their own work.

ALMIRA HOME GETS BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS

The Almira Home today received three dozen beautiful gladioli from Mr. and Mrs. William Reusman of Grant City. Those in charge and also the ladies who reside in the home appreciate the gift of these beautiful flowers to the fullest extent.

Topeka Dolls Up For 'Curtis Day'

City Awaits Notification So It Can Pay Tribute To "Charley"

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 16.—While Senator Charles Curtis spent another busy day at his office, his home town today was getting into its holiday best for the formal notification ceremony Saturday for the Republican vice presidential nominee.

The city's principal thoroughfare, Kansas avenue, has been trimmed with flags, bunting and national and party emblems and most of the buildings in the business district have been decorated.

Workmen were completing the construction of a temporary wooden platform on the south steps of the state capitol, on which Senator Curtis will be formally notified by Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio of his nomination as Herbert Hoover's runningmate.

Along Ninth avenue, the one block leading from Kansas avenue to the capitol grounds, six triumphal arches will be erected.

Eight Bands to Play

Plans for the notification day call for a one-hour program on the state capitol grounds preceding the formal ceremony, with eight bands furnishing the music.

The radio broadcast of Senator Fess' speech of notification and Senator Curtis' speech of acceptance will open at five, central standard time.

Park benches seating approximately 5,000 persons will be placed about the speaker's stand, while standing room will be available for thousands of others.

Western Railroads May Have Strike

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 16.—Seventy thousand employes of western railroads will probably go on strike some time next month.

A joint strike of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors is inevitable in the western states, it was indicated today by telegrams received here by A. F. Whitney, president of the Trainmen.

The strike impends as a result of the refusal by the railroads to grant trainmen, yardmen and conductors pay increases ranging from 10 to 18 per cent. About 80 roads, controlling 98 per cent of the mileage west of Chicago, are involved.

who were with her. She had not spoken of or about them. But she has discussed frequently the children left at home, her mind seeming to refer back to the home and times previous to the accident.

It is believed that her present condition is largely due to the shock sustained and from which she has not yet fully recovered.

Egidio Simons, husband of Mrs. Simons and father of the accident victims and Charles Farell husband of one of the dead women arrived here last night from their homes in Toledo and have assumed charge of the arrangements.

Garbage Collection Work Is Heavy Now

Employes of the municipal department of garbage collection are having a difficult problem these days to keep up with their collection on account of the heavy amount of garbage being put in receptacles, but according to Superintendent Howard Phillips, every member of the department is on his toes and the work is proceeding without a slipup.

Four trucks are employed to carry the garbage after employes collect it from cans.

One truck is devoted exclusively to the collection of tin cans in all wards.

Canning season has started and with the fruit season in, the garbage cans are generally filled by the time the trucks arrive.

The furnace which was remodeled this spring is operating smoothly and no coal is needed to consume the garbage.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

It was the speeder's day in police court. The first offender avowed he was traveling only 15 miles an hour when apprehended. Next a notorious fast driver told the judge he was going only 10 miles an hour.

"And how fast were you going?" asked the judge of Tim O'Brien, third in line.

"May it please the court," said Tim with straight face, "I wuz backin' up yer Honor."

GOLFERS HONOR HOYT-MOREHEAD

In honor of A. C. Hoyt and T. F. Morehead, golfers of the New Castle Field club to the number of 61 gathered last night at the club house at a testimonial dinner.

The affair was arranged so as to give the golfers of the club an opportunity of expressing their appreciation of the new caddy house erected by Messrs. Hoyt and Morehead and last night publicly presented by them to the club.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, president of the club presided at the dinner and smoker which followed it the affair being a stag event. President Dickey was at his best in the position of master of ceremonies and very ably presented the various speakers.

A. C. Hoyt was the first speaker called and stated that the caddy house was on the property of the field club, therefore it was the property of the club. He expressed his pleasure at being present.

T. F. Morehead was then called and expressed the same sentiment, adding that he hoped that it filled a long felt want and would help the game.

President Dickey spoke at some length stating that the gift was a spontaneous expression of the interest of the honor guests in the Field club. He then enumerated a number of other gifts that have been given including some very nice shelter houses

Wiliam M. Nunn of the golf committee responded to the toast of Ethics of Golf and urged that all golfers get familiar with the rules.

Rev. Fr F. S. Clifford was called to speak on the Experiences of a Sky Pilot and very ably responded, telling of the appreciation he felt for the field club and its wonderful course, paying special tribute to Messrs. Hoyt and Morehead as he concluded.

Harry Lampe, now located at Wilkes-Barre a former resident and member spoke of his appreciation of New Castle and how glad he was to be back.

Captain W. Arthur Smith, club professional responded to the topic of Correct Dress on the Golf Course by expressing his appreciation of the new caddy house and his many years with the club. Others called upon were Rufus C. Patterson and Walter S. Reynolds.

COMPANY B BOYS' WIVES HONORED

Wives of Company B boys back here Wednesday for Old Timers day were guests of honor at the tureen dinner held last evening at the Legion home under the auspices of the auxiliary to Daniel Leasure camp, United Spanish American War veterans.

The affair was a decided success and it was decided to make it an annual event on Old Timers day and an occasion on which Company B boys' wives could be honored and taken into the local auxiliary. After the dinner, the auxiliary went into regular session with members of the camp and the delegation from Grove City, as well as the members of the Pittsburgh auxiliary degree team and the Company B boys' wives, who were to be taken into the local auxiliary. The Pittsburgh degree team sixteen in number comparisoned in the beautiful uniforms, which it uses and has secured to take to the National encampment to be held in Cuba this year, performed in a perfect manner, putting on the degree work in a manner never before seen here. Mrs. Ray of Pittsburgh, the lady who organized the local auxiliary was present and gave Emmett Kurtz present commander of Daniel Leasure camp and also all past commanders in attendance, the highest honors that can be accorded by the auxiliary. George W. Dawson of Pittsburgh, publicity manager of the State Spanish American War organization was present and gave an excellent address and also took flashlight pictures of the auxiliary, the Pittsburgh degree team, the Grove City delegation and the candidates for initiation, which will be published. Mrs. E. J. Suber, president of the local auxiliary presided.

Those initiated were Mrs. Jack Hammon of Dubois, Mrs. George W. Patterson, Mrs. Howard Magill, Mrs. Olive Longstreth, Mrs. Nannie Crumm and Mrs. Mahlon Clark, all of whom with the exception of Mrs. Magill are wives of Company B boys. Mrs. Magill is the sister of John McKay, a Company B boy. The dinner tables were decorated in the national colors and a profusion of garden flowers. Mrs. H. Clare Stockman, Mrs. Orville Vanhorn and others of the auxiliary were in charge of the dinner.

THE PARKSTOWN MENACE

IN THE past five days two horrible automobile accidents have occurred at the Parkstown Corners curve, the most recent the one of Tuesday evening which cost two lives and severe injuries to others.

These are not the first accidents at this corner, nor will they be the last until some proper steps are taken to warn motorists that they are approaching a dangerous curve.

Since the completion of the concrete road towards Edenburg the danger at this point is enhanced. A strange driver approaching the curve sees a long white stretch of road ahead and does not realize that the Youngstown road turns to the right until he is nearly on it. Because it is an intersection it is not possible to bank the turn and accidents are the result.

It is high time that some proper warning boards were placed at this point. They may even cost a little money, but certainly a few dollars expended for warning signs is better than the loss of life.

There was a time when accidents were prevalent at the curve in New Bedford. After some 21 of them had occurred proper warning signs were placed and accidents are a rarity there now.

The type of warning sign for Parkstown Corner does not matter, as long as it gives the motorist proper warning that he is approaching a dangerous curve. The present signs are ineffective and should be replaced immediately with ones that will do the work.

ANOTHER MYTH GONE

FOR years it has been understood that in China doctors are paid for keeping their patients well. The fee continues while health is good. When a man gets sick it is because the doctor hasn't been doing his duty or is incompetent.

It was a good story, full of an engaging plausibility. For all occasions it had point and cogency. The banquet toastmaster and orator could always lean heavily upon it, and for pulpit, platform, political rostrum it could be relied upon to meet some need of argument or illustration.

From the college president down to the household talking across the back fence, the Chinese doctor story had a lesson so vivid and simple that it carried itself easily and every load of collateral application and admonition that any one cared to pile upon it. Taken all in all, it was one of the most useful things Western civilization has ever borrowed from the Orient.

And now comes Dr. Reginald M. Atwater, instructor in epidemiology at Harvard, who says the Chinese story is a myth. He has been in China. He has examined the records and consulted the medical code of that nation. And Dr. Atwater says the Chinese people do exactly the way we do here. When they are well they don't bother about doctors and have the same care-free disregard for the poor dedic's income that we sordid materialists of the Western world have. But when they get sick they go on the run for the medicine man. As for paying to be kept well, the doctor says he was unable to find a single instance of any such practice. And so it goes with the good old myths.

JUST BY THE WAY OF VARIETY

JUST by way of variety, we invite you to glance over the following quotations:

"We should not hesitate to support him (Mr. Hoover) as the Republican candidate on a platform representing the kind of government which Mr. Hoover has exemplified in his public career.

"The partisan objections to Mr. Hoover are arguments in his favor. The American people are tired of professional politicians and disgusted with party politics.

"Mr. Hoover has proved himself one of the greatest administrators of all time. His achievements are among the miracles of the war.

"Such ability is not to be held lightly at a time like this. The American people are going to need it, and need it badly.

"Competent leadership there must be, and no man better embodies it than Herbert C. Hoover.

"He has worked with his hands, and he knows from personal experience the point of view of the man who works with his hands.

"Those who want a progressive in the White House will find in him (Mr. Hoover) an instinctively democratic progressive.

"The are no arguments against him except the arguments that are spawned out of the stagnant waters of professional politics.

"He (Mr. Hoover) is the kind of man that ought to be President of the United States."

Now who do you suppose is the author of the above gem? Not any Republican journal in this broad land. It was the editorial opinion of the New York World, the present personal organ of Al Smith and his adviser-in-chief. True, the publication was back in 1920, but if Herbert Hoover was then, as the World says, "the kind of man that ought to be President of the United States," he is far better equipped today to hold that office, considering that in the intervening years he has grown wonderfully in his understanding of the great questions with which a President must deal.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:57. Sun rises tomorrow 5:12.

The way to tell a good wrestler from an inferior one is to ascertain how he spends his time—on his stomach or on his back.

A newspaper does not make the news—it merely tries to report it.

If some people had just a little more brains and not so much pride they would really get along better themselves and would cause less disgust among others.

There is a picture of the Reynoldstown School Reunion on display in the windows of The News office, taken of this year's meeting. Copies of it can be had for $1 if orders are left at this office. If you want one get it quickly as it will be on display only a few days and we get nothing out of it except the satisfaction of getting the picture to those who may want one.

REPORTER SOUGHT LAUGHTER

New York Daily News' city desk handed James Cannon, reporter, a unique assignment the other day. He was to give five dollar bills to people he heard laughing while he wandered in different parts of the city. He found New York a sullen, sour-faced town.

We can remember back when certain kinds of medicine, supposed to heal all ills, were bought in great quantities for their alcoholic content. Those concoctions are still on the market but are not popular any more in prohibition. They used to contain some scandalous jags. We do not mention their names as that would be free advertising.

Seeing a girl's knee used to be quite a sight. And some of them are a sight yet.

Some girls told us that they are going without stockings in this city also. So far we have not seen any, but they told us they saw some ladies on Washington street without socks on. Omigosh!

MYSELF AND ME

I have to live with myself, and so
I want to be fit for myself to know,
I want to be able, as days go by,
Always to look myself straight in the eye,
I don't want to stand with the setting sun,
And hate myself for the things I've done.

I never can hide myself from me;
I see what others may never see.
I know what others may never know,
I never can fool myself, and so,
Whatever happens I want to be Self-respecting and conscience-free.

A few days ago we were out on Sheep Hill and coming towards this city right at the brow of the hill we stopped at the home of George Nee, one of the pioneer citizens of that locality. His son Austin Nee lives with him and is also well known. Our friends showed us the view of New Castle from their home. It is more than wonderful and is the best view of the city that can be had. Most every building in this city can be seen from their place. Those who really want to see a great view should go up there and take a look. You go right down Moravia street and up to the top of the hill above Terrace avenue.

Every human is better off for keeping out of family fights, political fights and church fights. Those who are most interested in such affairs never get out without a lot of scars.

The report a convention delegate makes to the association upon his return home is nothing compared to what he could tell about it.

We are making progress in New Castle. Clearing the streets is one of the things wisely made. Now if we get 15 minutes or no parking at all on Washington street the merchants will get thousands of dollars every year that they do not get now. It is worth a lot of money to a store in front of which no parking is allowed. Those who enjoy that privilege know that.

In Athens, Greece, some of the boys have been voting several times at the elections. In order to stop this hereafter when a man votes his fingers are to be dipped in a dye that remains on for three days and if he comes back to vote the second time the dye gives him away. Some of the boys must have introduced that custom after being in this country and going back.

A negro stoker was crossing the ocean for the first time. He came up on deck to get a breath of air. Looking out on the water, he said in disgruntled tones: "Why, we is right whar we wuz this time yesterday."

It's a good thing people don't wear the heavy winter clothing they used to when the houses were so much larger. It would make the apartments seem so crowded.

There is a law in New York state which not only permits Sunday fishing, but also prohibits the catching of a muscallounge less than two feet long. One of those fish would be like dragging a quarter of beef or a ham out of the water.

All the real Republicans are going to be with and for Mr. Hoover. They never flop to any Democratic candidates. We have nothing against men who are Democrats, but we are not for Democratic policies.

Oil and water aren't the best example of things that won't mix. There are white pants and a flat tire.

Every now and then we hear that some move is going to be made by the highway department of Pennsylvania to put a stop to the terrible racing of the huge busses over the state. The reason that more people are not killed by busses is because they can hear them coming for a mile or so and have time to get off the roads entirely. The roads in some places are only wide enough for one bus, at that. The busses should be curbed. That don't mean anything but being called to the curb.

When there is something that people want in a newspaper that is not new in the eyes of the newspaper, there are still left for the enthusiast the advertising columns of the newspaper, where pay is expected and demanded, of course, for the stuff.

It's a safe bet that the defendant who declines legal counsel is resigned to tell the truth.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

On the western plains the sheepman goes out with several thousand head and one human companion. The natural result is that the pair, forced upon one another when they least expect it, form the habit of hating each other.

A former sheepman while in a narraitve mood one evening was telling a party of friends of a fellow he once rode with. "Not a word had passed between us for more than a week, and that night when we rolled up in our blankets, he suddenly asked:

"Hear that cow beller?"

"Sounds to me like a bull," I replied.

No answer, but the following morning I noticed him packing up.

"Going to leave?" I questioned.

"Yes," he replied.

"What for?"

"Too much argument."

President Coolidge did not listen in on Mr. Hoover's speech of acceptance, but went fishing instead. When some people have habits nothing will stop them, not even a President.

It's easy to see through most things these days unless it's a church memorial window.

All a juror is expected to say in reply to the questions put to him by the lawyers is: "I'm dumb," and he is accepted.

THE HIMS

She doesn't go to hear the hymns,
She goes to church to see them.

Airplanes are now being carried on ocean mail-carrying ships, and when the ships get within flying distance of land the airplanes take the mail and make for the port, saving about a day in the mail getting to its destination. They are not taking mail all the way across yet in an airplane.

The strangest thing to the Hints and Dints man about the fellow who says: "I feel like a million dollars" is how he knows.

Foods rich in iron are dried lima beans, dried navy beans, beefsteak, eggs, whole wheat, oatmeal, dried peas, prunes, raisins and spinich. Iron in the form of a food is more readily assimilated than that obtained from bottles, the diet experts say. Now go to it.

Two Democratic newspapers in Oklahoma are going to support Hoover, but the editors say they are not going to join the Republican party. They are just going to be alleged Republicans for one election.

Those tomato vines of ours are beginning to get some small tomatoes on them. They might be ripe by Christmas if the winter keeps off. We hear of lots of other tomato vines that are big and nothing on them.

A Mexican girl was telling the Hints and Dints man about her home in Mexico City. She described it as a wonderful place. 'Picturesque bandits, revolutionary leaders, harmless American ambassadors and the like. Why the other night I went strolling through an oil lease with a boy named Horace. And he kissed me. Oh, he was such a charming boy, but papa shot him."

Suppose It Were Hostile.
What Lincoln Said.
Lowden on Hoover.
Samuel Insull's Farms.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

An amphibian plane, catapulted from the French liner, Ile de France, when 450 miles out, reached New York with mail 15 hours before the ship got in.

That's important as regards mail distribution.

It's ten million times more important from the point of view of national danger.

Suppose a foreign ship, or a fleet of foreign ships, 450 miles out, should catapult from their decks two or three hundred planes, carrying explosive bombs with poison gases, and send them to New York or San Francisco or Los Angeles? What effect would they have on the country?

One single plane sent, like the one from the Ile de France, to Washington, D. C., could destroy the White House and the Capitol and fly back to the "mother ship". That ought to interest our statesmen.

When bankers from New York told President Lincoln how much money they had at stake and demanded a warship in New York harbor to protect New York's treasure, President Lincoln said to them: "If I had as much money as you say you have, I'd build a battleship at my own expense."

Inasmuch as this government finds it impossible to wake up, it might pay bankers and property owners of New York and other cities to think a little about air protection, at their own expense.

Gov. Lowden, a real farmer, "is much impressed by Hoover's speech" and "his frank recognition of the agricultural problem as the most urgent economical problem in our nation today." Gov. Lowden is a real farmer, on a big scale, and has devoted much of his life to studying the farm problem. His approval of Mr. Hoover's speech will mean much to farmers.

Samuel Insull is two kinds of farmer. He raises queer yellow horses that nobody will buy, north of Chicago. And on his real farm, the power business of the United States, he raises many millions of dollars, extending his farming from ocean to ocean.

He has done a useful thing in establishing a model "electric farm" to show farmers that they can save money, and reduce "help" by using electrical contraptions, pushing a button or throwing a lever, instead of "breaking" their backs.

Every farm should have electric power at little cost, and would have if the people had brains enough to control their own power supplies.

However, since they haven't brains enough, they should be thankful for men like Insull and others that supply brains for a consideration.

Imagine the feelings of the Rev. Dr. Straton, head of a great Baptist church in New York City. While he was busy attacking Gov. Smith on prohibition and other things, some snake in the grass discovers a "speakeasy" in a hotel at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., owned by the Rev. Dr. Straton himself.

Dr. Straton, who had just taken title to the hotel, was planning to make it a fine religious center for the Greenwood Lake Christian Assembly, summer festival, Bible conference, school camp meetings, etc.

In came a reporter with a bottle of Scotch whisky bought from the hotel manager and late proprietor.

Dr. Straton sees a plot of the liquor interests planting that speakeasy on sacred ground. Speakeasies are planted without any plot, next door to police stations and churches. They even flourish inside prison walls.

The demon rum has no conscience, but this time he seems to have gone a little too far. He will hear from Dr. Straton.

The death of Chang Tso-Lin, dynamited in his railway carriage, is attributed by a British writer, Lenox Simpson, to the Japanese "Black Dragon Society", which interests itself in patriotic Japanese affairs, and is said to have had a hand in the death of the Queen of Korea in 1895.

In spite of the romantic name and the patriotism, the Japanese will probably dig out the facts.

They don't like any organization exercising powers outside of government, or controlling government, such as are tolerated, sometimes, in other countries.

BILLBOARDS

Any criticism of billboard advertising must incur the danger of being objected to by those whose "craft is in danger." All the same there are many who believe that billboard advertising not only spoils the beauties of nature and is offensive to the traveler, but that it is unscientific and uneconomical.

Advertising should not only call attention of the possible customer to the article to be bought, but it should pay its own way. That is it should make possible the beneficial effects of the medium.

Newspapers and magazines are the ideal place for advertising. People not only expect it there, but the money spent in putting it there makes the publication possible. Almost every periodical depends upon advertising for the main part of its revenue.

The publisher of a popular magazine, priced at five cents, told this writer some time ago that every copy of that magazine cost him forty-one cents. The profits were in advertising.

The Supreme Court of Kansas has declared valid a legislative statute which prohibited any kind of signs, except official markers, on the highways, also any type of advertising sign within 500 feet of a turn in the road, and intersection, or a railroad grade crossing.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A LONG RUN.

England remembers the "John Bull" of locomotives—the first to draw a carriage on rails—and strives to hold the leadership in everything pertaining to Railways. If it is speed, the Britisher will tell you the fastest trains are run on English rails through the most beautiful country on Earth. If it is distance run without stop, he claims also the Palm of Victory.

"The Flying Scotsman" is the last word from England. It has just begun making the longest non-stop run in the world—the 392 miles between London and Edinburgh.

Comfort, not speed, is the object, for the time remains at eight and a quarter hours. Heretofore there has been no way of changing crews without stopping the train, since it was held dangerous for two crews to occupy the cab at the same time.

Special locomotive tenders solve that problem. At the end of 200 miles a fresh driver and fireman emerge from the first coach, go through a covered corridor or gangway along the right side of the tender, and take over the engine. The men relieved go back the same way and finish the trip as passengers.

That 392 miles is forty miles further than the distance from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh.

CHANGING PLEASURES

Some things have passed forever from my hands,
Dreams I once cherished trouble me no more,
My ship it seems has sailed too far from shore.
No longer do I play upon the sands
Or wish to dance to strains of passing bands.
Youth with its gay, glad pleasures, now is o'er
Yet here I find delights unseen before
And tranquil times youth never understands.

I have known baseball and the swimming hole.
But now I sit contented with a book,
Or find it joy an hour or two to stroll
And listen to the prattle of a brook.
This truth with passing time we come to know
That every age has laughter to bestow.

HOOVER ADDRESS

The keynote struck by those who find favor in the Republican candidate and his speech of acceptance seems to be its "human" qualities. Praise and blame are divided along party lines except where a few Democratic commentors are willing to give credit where they believe credit is due.

"Whether he is speaking of science, commerce, industry, the tariff, immigration, prohibition, agriculture, water power, war, it is in terms of human beings that he thinks and proposes to act," declares the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE (Rep.). The address, according to the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL (Ind.), "verges at times on the rhapsody of a poet," and that paper says of the candidate's pledge that problems "shall be courageously met": "No one who knows Herbert Hoover doubts that he could do more than most men could do to solve those problems."

"Mr. Hoover has revealed himself again to the nation as far more interested in the human side than in the drier, legalistic and statistical side of life," according to the WASHINGTON STAR (Ind.), which describes the speech as "a masterly piece of American diction, filled with forceful and almost epigrammatic phrases." The ASHEVILLE TIMES (Ind.-Dem.) states: "For the present, the country will applaud the address for its general effect in revealing Mr. Hoover as a man earnest, sincere, direct in thought and speech, moved by a high ambition to use his talents for the spiritual as well as the material welfare of his country." The ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION (Ind.) feels that he is prepared to devote his talents "to the people's interest."

"More important than his unequivocal indorsement of the Republican declaration at Kansas City, his laudation of President Coolidge, and his pledge to go forward along the lines of the present policies of Republican administration," in the opinion of the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN (Ind.-Rep.), "was the content of his speech concerning, in his own apt words, 'the spirit and ideals with which it is proposed to carry it (the platform) into administration.'" The CHARLOTTE OBSERVER (Ind.-Dem.) feels that "through the address there runs a cord of idealism that reminds one of some of the doctrines of Woodrow Wilson."

"In his references to equal opportunity for all," the SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN (Ind.) sees in Mr. Hoover's words "something that still touches the heart of America. And happily, in both both Mr. Hoover and Governor Smith, as presidential candidates, the working of equal opportunity for talent and force, rising from humble and obscure beginnings, finds a brilliant and memorable illustration." The SALT LAKE DESERT NEWS (Ind.) interprets as the underlying theme of the speech, "the onward march of America along social, spiritual and material lines of human achievement and betterment"

"Hoover, the American citizen, with his plea for equal opportunity, looking upon this as a nation of homes," suggests the OAKLAND TRIBUNE (Ind.-Rep.), "spoke directly to the living rooms and kitchens of the land."

Other similar expressions come from the following papers:

DES MOINES REGISTER (Ind.-Rep.)—"The boy who walked away from the prairies of Iowa, an orphan of six, today, in full manhood, opens a door of service to America that has never before opened quite so wide, nor with quite so emphatic a gesture of invitation."

CHARLOTTE NEWS (Dem.)—"A message for popular consumption, couched in understandable terms, and designed to touch the American masses."

PASADENA STAR-NEWS (Rep.)—"An epitome of opinions and striking facts, graphically, succinctly put. The speech is replete with epigrams. There is substance in every sentence."

KANSAS CITY JOURNAL-POST (Ind.-Rep)—"He goes a little further than the Kansas City platform in promising better things for farm business, and he socks Mr. Smith's ur-Volsteadianism squarely between the eyes."

LOS ANGELES EXPRESS (Rep.)—"The conception of government as an instrumentality primarily charged with the promotion of human happiness runs all through Mr. Hoover's speech, and attests the spirit in which he would approach the presidency."

PROVIDENCE JOURNAL (Ind.)—"He is at the same time idealistic and practical."

UTICA OBSERVER-DISPATCH (Ind.)—"The address sets a new mark in productions of this nature. In fact, it may be regarded as a remarkable state paper."

Assuming a neutral position, the DENVER POST (Ind.) sums up the matter: "From the viewpoint of the Republican editors, the Hoover speech was one of the most masterly discussions of public affairs offered for public consumption within the generation. From the Democratic standpoint Mr. Hoover's proclamation was insipid, evasive and lacking in originality. You have read the address and can form your estimate of its importance."

"We had expected better things than that of Mr. Hoover," complains

You cannot be attractive without a clear skin

EVERYBODY wants to be attractive. It is a great and just ambition. But no one can be attractive without a clear skin—you know that.

Do you realize the importance of pure, rich blood in preserving the health, and that the source of most skin disorders is in the blood?

Remove the cause, which is not in the skin itself, and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.?

S.S.S. is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs, and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

When your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning. Instead, you feel refreshed, ready to meet the world.

Your appetite is keen—you enjoy work or play—your skin is clear, cheeks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood builds and sustains the body.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

Scour Countryside For Robber Trio

(International News Service)

KEENE, N. H., Aug 16.—The countryside for miles around today was scoured for a trio of robbers who, at pistol point, held up S. E. Kaleh, wealthy Syracuse, N. Y., importer, as he was driving in his automobile in the town of Dublin and robbed him of $25,000 worth of imported linens.

The importer was forced to leave his car and stand by helpless in the wooded road while the robbers transferred the linens to their own automobile and drove away.

Four College Boys Safe In Wilderness

Quartet Which Set Out For Arctic Circle In Canoes Has Been Located

(International News Service)

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 16—With hope rapidly waning that they would even be found alive, the four American college youths who set out in two canoes to reach the Arctic circle, today were reported safe in the wilderness south of Fort Churchill.

Word of their safety was brought back to civilization by Corporal J. J. Malloy, R. C. M. P., stationed at Pelican Narrows. The news came after four weeks' anxious waiting.

A radio message had been sent to Malloy sometime ago ordering the "Mounties" to proceed north and bring the party back. Malloy had not received the message, but he accidentally came back across the group of young men.

The party has changed its plans and are now using a route to reach Fort Churchill that will keep them fairly well in touch with other men in the wilderness. They have also been equipped with fresh supplies and rifles.

The party is composed of John Fuller, 21, of Keokuk, Ia.; Max J. Kane, 19, of Iowa City; Gordon Armstrong, 20, Lake Iowa, and Peddar C. Boddum, 24, of Crystal, Ia. All are college men.

The group left Iowa City May 29, with the avowed intention of going to Chesterfield Inlet.

DAILY EDITORIAL DIGEST

the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD (Ind.) while the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM (Ind.-Dem.) also expresses disappointment, with the explanation: "There was much of the Republican candidate for president in the speech, but there was little of Herbert Hoover in it." The ROANOKE TIMES (Ind.-Dem.) says that "the speech, like the candidate, ran true to form." It describes him as "an efficient and capable executive, undoubtedly; but whether he possesses the rare qualities of constructive leadership is still as much of a question as it was before he made his acceptance speech."

The NEW YORK WORLD (Ind.) states: "We continue to believe that Mr. Hoover is one of the extraordinary men of this generation, but it is no mean task to make this speech fit that belief." The WORLD holds that Mr. Hoover's review of the accomplishments of the Republicans in the last eight years "is not an honest review," although the paper is "not referring to the unpleasant subject of corruption." It then makes denial of "credit for things which any administration after 1920 would inevitably have done"; for things "which the Coolidge administration actually opposed and was forced unwillingly to accept"; for things which have been done by the people themselves; and for things "done by state and local governments." Absence of clear-cut policies is charged by The World.

Other criticisms of the acceptance speech are:

AKRON BEACON JOURNAL (Rep.) through its publisher, former Representative C. L. Knight—"One must remember that Mr. Hoover is a product of that 'new freedom' which has come to look upon government, not as an instrument to secure the enjoyment of man's natural rights, but rather as an agency to look after his spiritual, moral and material welfare. This idea is not impressive to the few of us left who dissent from this theory."

SYRACUSE HERALD (Ind.)—"When he leaves the past and comes to the present and future * * * his progress is more halting and less confident."

PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL (Ind.)—"He stands on the Kansas City platform on farm relief. The delegates who framed the farm plank in that platform shut the doors against the farmers and farmers' wives."

DAYTON DAILY NEWS (Ind.-Dem.)—"The substance of the speech can be stated in a few words. He begins with a noble promise: 'It shall be a true campaign. We shall use words to convey our meaning, not to hide it.'"

BALTIMORE SUN (Ind.-Dem.)—"His plea for tolerance, his denunciation of crookedness in government, and the things he left unsaid—any reference to the so-called power trust or some expression regarding Boulder Dam—caused more comment in political circles than any other phase."

RALEIGH NEWS AND OBSERVER (Dem.)—"It would not be accurate to say that Mr. Hoover straddled on prohibition. He executed a complete split."

ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS (Ind.-Dem.)—"Mr. Hoover, who eight years ago was a noted liberal of world reputation and was uncertain about his party affiliations in this country, has now become a thoroughly orthodox Republican."

CHATTANOOGA TIMES (Ind. Dem.)—"He is strongly impressed with the idea that government should be the handmaiden of business and industry, the promoter of uplift and the keeper of the morals of the people."

NEW YORK TIMES (Ind.)—"It is a noteworthy party document, well fitted to Republican sentiment."

Mr. Hoover's agreement with the policies enunciated in the Republican platform is commended by the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS (Ind.). Evidence of real leadership is found by the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL (Rep.-Ind.). His firm grasp on existing problems is attested by the WORCESTER TELEGRAM (Ind.), BLUEFIELD TELEGRAPH (Ind.-Rep.), CHARLESTON DAILY MAIL (Ind.-Rep.), PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE (Rep.), OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES (Ind.) and FORT WAYNE NEWS-SENTINEL (Rep.). That he gives evidence of being a builder in national affairs is the belief of the ERIE DISPATCH-HERALD (Rep.), CHICAGO TRIBUNE (Rep.) and ST. LOUIS TIMES (Rep.).

NEWARK EVENING NEWS (Ind.), "A straightforward exposition of his views on national problems," and "an unequivocal stand on prohibition." SAN FRANCISCO BULLETIN (Rep.), "Sound common sense and practical wisdom." INDIANAPOLIS NEWS (Rep.), "Spared no word to make his position clear on prohibition." MANCHESTER UNION (Ind.-Rep.), "Affords illuminating glimpses of his whole philosophy of government." ALTOONA MIRROR (Ind.), "It should be read carefully by every American citizen who is really concerned for the future of his country."

"EVERY PNEUMATIC TIRE OF OUR MANUFACTURE BEARING OUR NAME AND SERIAL NUMBER IS WARRANTED BY US AGAINST DEFECTS IN MATERIAL AND WORKMANSHIP DURING THE LIFE OF THE TIRE TO THE EXTENT THAT IF ANY TIRE FAILS BECAUSE OF SUCH DEFECT, WE WILL EITHER REPAIR THE TIRE OR MAKE A REASONABLE ALLOWANCE ON THE PURCHASE OF A NEW TIRE."

The manufacturers listed below, who produce over 95% of the tires made in America, guarantee tires bearing their names and serial numbers against defects for the entire life of the tires

Director General, THE RUBBER INSTITUTE, Inc.

Those familiar with tire history will remember the early experimental days when the only way a manufacturer could express his confidence in his product was by offering a definite mileage guarantee.

They will recall how, due to misuse, the definite figure inevitably was pushed beyond all sensible bounds.

As tires improved in quality the whole theory and practice of "definite mileage" commitments was pushed into the background and finally rejected by standard tire companies as unfair and uneconomical to the tire-user.

It had proved itself to be fundamentally unsound.

Its abuse by unscrupulous drivers confronted the manufacturer with the alternatives of higher prices or lower quality to meet the added costs of unjustified allowances.

Perhaps its most unfair feature was that it benefited the driver who misused his tires and misrepresented his mileage at the cost of the honest and careful driver who did not abuse his tires.

Its passing was welcomed by trade and public alike because it had come to be used as an unfair sales inducement rather than as a protection for the buyer.

The industry then shifted from the costly advertising of mileage claims to the building of real mileage into the tires.

As a result, tire values have steadily improved, to the benefit of all users alike, although prices are today the lowest in history.

The prevailing practice of these manufacturers, who produce over 95% of the tires in the United States, is expressed by the broadest standard tire guarantee in the history of the industry.

The members of the Rubber Institute, Inc., listed below, warrant tires bearing their names and serial numbers to be free from all defects of material or workmanship.

This warranty is unlimited as to time or mileage, the manufacturer's responsibility continuing throughout the entire life of the tire.

In case of the failure of the tire due to defect, no matter how far or how long that tire has traveled, fair and equitable adjustment will be made by the manufacturer on the basis of the tire's normal expectancy of service had the defect not appeared.

It is the intent and purpose of this warranty to assure the buyer a quality product capable of satisfactory performance, the responsibility for which the manufacturer of the tire hereby assumes.

—a guarantee broader in its protection to the individual, yet fairer in its operation to all, than anything now or ever placed before the public.

many of our roadside landscapes walled with ugly signboards.

Connecticut and Maryland have shown us the way of remedying this evil. It is roadside tree planting. A highway lined on both sides with trees is poor meat for the outdoor advertiser.

Trees do not obscure the landscape, but form an attractive frame for it. They make it hard to read billboard advertisements.

In New York and New Jersey, and in other states, it is illegal to attach signs to trees.

Many states have passed laws forbidding advertising signs on rights of way.

Theodore Roosevelt said: "Do not let selfish men or greedy interests skin your country of its beauty."

Henry Van Dyck in an address at Los Angeles said that what Southern California needs more than anything else is to prevent spoiling the beauty of the landscape by advertisements. The Garden Club of America, with seventy-nine clubs throughout the country, has inaugurated a Billboard Restriction campaign by sending to all member clubs its billboard calendar.

It is pretty hard to withstand the inroads of commercialism, but every lover of nature should co-operate with the Anti-Billboard campaign.

There is no reason why the highways of America should not be as attractive as those of France. All travelers know how beautiful are the French highways lined with rows of trees.

Yale's Library Home Ready In Fall Of 1930

By R. T. BULKELEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 16.—One of the world's great libraries is beginning to thrust its shoulders above the buildings that go to form Yale University here, and if it continues to grow at the present rate will be thrown open to students in the fall of 1930. The structure to house 3,500,000 volumes is so far along today that its proportions and lines are becoming familiar to New Haven.

A fortune given to Yale by the will of John W. Sterling, New York lawyer, made the new library possible. It will bear the name: Sterling Memorial Library. The intimate name of at least a portion is to be: "The Yale Bookstack." The stack will loom above the college district here 150 feet.

Yale Bookstack

The Yale Bookstack is to be 90 feet wide and will stretch 135 feet from east to west across the center of a building some 350 feet on a side and approximately square. The stack is to have 16 floors on which books will fill 80 miles of shelving. The deck framing for these shelves is to be 30 miles long.

As one of the disigners of the structure has put it, "If an ambitious library attendant desired to traverse all the aisles without retracing his steps, he would walk six and one-half miles." And the fact is stressed that "The shelves, placed end to end, would cover a walk extending from New Haven to New York City."

Among the interior features will be a main reference reading room of 15,000 volumes, a collateral reading room of 20,000 volumes and The Linonian and Brothers library of 30,000 volumes, all on the ground floor. Scattered on the various levels of the Bookstack are to be 40 stalls, each four by five feet, equipped with desks and shelves for students doing research work.

The Material Used

The library is to absorb 6,500,000 common brick, 170,000 square feet of terra cotta blocks, 85,000 cubic feet of stone and 105,000 square feet of sea face granite in its walls, which will be united with 50,000 bags of cement and 6,000 yards of sand for mortar.

Foundations required 142 tons of reinforcing steel, 51,000 bags of cement, 9,000 cubic yards of broken stone, 4,500 yards of sand, and to cake the forms 135,000 feet of lumber and 100 kegs of nails were used.

Arches to support the floor took 235,000 square feet of wire mesh reinforcement, 4,400 cubic yards of broken stone and 30,000 bags of cement, with 200,000 square feet of wood.

Marc Eidlitz and Son, Inc., of New York are erecting the library. James Gamble Rogers, Inc., designed it. Andrew Koegh, chief librarian at Yale, laid out the plans with the architect, was assisted in his work by the director and librarian at Harvard, and the librarians of Universities of Princeton, Chicago and Michigan, and the librarian of the St. Louis public library, as well as the librarian of Congress. This group met here with Yale's president, provost, the architect and the dean of Yale art school for long conferences in which every possible idea was noted and used for the benefit of the Yale library.

And in this work James Rowland Angell, president of Yale, "gave recommendations that will be of lasting benefit," says Librarian Keogh.

GARDNER

L. J. Schumaker of Philadelphia,, president of the Continental Packing Corporation, came to Gardner Sunday, bringing his daughter, Elsie Jeanne, and Mrs. Schumaker, wife of Rev. Albert Schumaker of Pittsburgh. Mr. Schumaker was on his way home from a trip to Denver and brought many interesting pictures of the far west, but the one that was viewed with shouts of laughter was the picture of the key room at the Bald Pate Inn. The ceiling has never been finished and the rafters are full of nails and hooks, on which are hung the keys which are being received every day from all parts of the world. One man went in an airplane and dropped a key in a parachute. There are keys of all shapes and sizes on the walls. The room has no furniture and is entirely given up to the keys. The young man who wrote the story, "Seven Keys to Bald Pate," little dreamed how many times seven the Bald Pate Inn would have showered upon it.

Mrs. Samuel Hogue and daughter, Mrs. VanEman, of the old Pittsburgh road, were calling recently on old friends at Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Robb and children of Gardner went to Butler last Saturday to the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Robb.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hazen of Celia Stop came to East New Castle to see J. W. Fombelle and called on old friends at Gardner Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kline of West Pittsburgh were guests of Mrs. Dora Cameron of Savannah last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Lippiman and son James, of East New Castle went to Savannah last Sunday to see Mrs. Lippiman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Denny.

Frank M. Hay of Gardner took his family to Sharon last Saturday evening to see the ball game which was played by the post office employes.

It is thought that no one in Gardner ever before saw a sunset equal to the one last Sunday. Such majestic splendor and surpassing loveliness was never witnessed before.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SOLVING CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

Start out by filling in the words of which you feel reasonably sure. These will give you a clue to other words crossing them, and they in turn to still others. A letter belongs in each white space, words starting at the numbered squares and running either horizontally or vertically or both.

Put your MODEL T FORD in shape for thousands of miles of additional service

MORE than eight million Model T Fords are still in active use and many of them can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of service—and even longer—at very small cost.

The following list gives the approximate labor charges for reconditioning the Model T Ford—

Engine
Tune motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary)	$1.00
Grind valves and clean carbon	$3.75 to $4.00
Overhaul carburetor	1.50
Reline detachable car transmission bands	1.50
Install new pistons or connecting rods	6.00
Tighten all main bearings	6.00
Overhaul motor and transmission	$20.00 to 25.00
Rear System
Replace rear axle assembly	2.50
Install universal joint	3.00
Reline brake shoes	1.50
Tighten rear radius rod	.60
Replace rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion, or drive gear	5.00
Overhaul complete rear axle assembly	$5.75 to 7.00
Rebush spring and perches	1.75
Oil and graphite springs	3.00
Front System
Overhaul front axle	$4.00 to 5.00
Rebush spindle bodies and arms (both sides)	2.50
Replace or straighten spindle connecting rod	.75
Tighten radius rod or steering ball cap	.60
Tighten all sockets and joints of front end	1.50
Replace front spring tie bolt or new leaf	2.50
Straighten front axle	3.00
Chassis
Tighten all nuts and bolts	3.00
Replace rear fender	1.75
Overhaul steering gear	3.50
Repair muffler	1.00
Overhaul radiator	7.50
Line up front wheels	.50
Repaint Coupe	25.00
Repaint Sedan	25.00
Repaint Touring Car	20.00
Reupholster Runabout	8.00
Reupholster Touring Car	15.00
Repair seat cushion	2.50
Replace top deck (Coupe or Sedan)	4.00
Overhaul starting motor	3.00
Overhaul generator	2.60

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the number of necessary parts needed depends on the condition of each car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford low-price policy.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T Ford over the longest period of time, we suggest that you take the car to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of putting it in good shape. A very small expenditure may be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.

Hoover And Smith Force Prohibition As Greatest Issue

(International News Service)

WENHAM, Mass., Aug. 16.—Nomination of Smith and Hoover has brought prohibition to the forefront as the dominant issue of the presidential campaign, declared Col. Edward M. House at the summer home of his daughter here Wednesday.

But beyond that the one-time friend and advisor of the late President Woodrow Wilson refused to comment. He was out of politics he said and to discuss issues would draw him in. Colonel House made it plain that he favored Smith and hoped he would be elected.

Chicago Buildings Damaged By Bombs

Suspect In Death Of Hughey McLoon Found Murdered

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—A man believed to be Daniel O'Leary, one of the O'Leary brothers sought in connection with the shooting of Hughey McLoon, last Thursday was riddled with bullets from the guns of five gangsters Wednesday in an apartment on Park avenue here.

The murder was discovered when the agent of the house entered the apartment after he was told neighbors had heard shots on the third floor.

The gangsters are believed to have acted in revenge for the slaying of McLoon, for at the time of the death of the former mascot of the Athletics baseball team, vailed threats were made by gangsters known to the police.

Escaping Prisoner Is Shot To Death

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 16. — Escaping from a police station by sawing through one of the bars of a window in his cell room, Hans Pate, 25, was shot and killed Wednesday when he tried to break free from a detective bureau squad that captured him. He was said to have confessed 58 burglaries.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

HIDING IN THE SEAWEED

"All night long that fellow talked to himself and not a thing did he do but eat!

"How his tummy could hold all the fish and the crabs and the rest of the prey he caught I don't know!.

"Wife and I would not have had a chance for our lives if we had ventured within reach of his beak. Even now I shiver when I happen to think of what a narrow escape we had." Bobolink flapped his wings nervously and Mrs. Bobolink swung the faster upon her clover stalk.

"I should think you would have been scared to come out," exclaimed Sonny-Bunny, and Mrs. Gray Rabbit nodded solemnly.

"I know just how you Bobolinks felt," said she. "Once upon a time I spent a whole night in a hollow of a tree trunk. I caught sight of Mr. Fox far across a field and coming my way and I didn't dare show my head until a Woodpecker friend of mine told me that he had given up searching for me in disgust, thinking I'd never come out of the hole, and gone off in another direction. And even then I had all I could do to make my legs carry me home, they shook so!"

"How did you Bobolinks finally manage to get away without the Night Watchman spying you?" asked Peter.

"We didn't get away at all," replied Bobolink. "We stayed right where we were hidden in the seaweed and never ruffed a feather all through that long, long night.

"WE STAYED RIGHT WHERE WE WERE ALL THROUGH THAT LONG NIGHT"

"Indeed, we were almost afraid to breath and we longed for and yet dreaded the coming of the day. We were afraid that with light to guide him, the cruel cannibal would surely discover our hiding place. You see we had forgotten that probably he could not see well in the light since his eyes were so bright in the darkness.

"At last the moon dropped into the sea and the sky began to grow gray. Then one by one the lighted candles in the heavens went out. A very, very faint streak of light appeared in the east. Day was breaking. Soon the great Red Ball would roll up from behind the edge of the sea, where it had hidden itself!"

Bobolink stopped short in his story-telling and tucked his head under his wings.

Was he through? Peter and the rabbits were dismayed. There was so much more they wanted to know. They hoped Bobolink wasn't going to take a nap right at the point when his adventures were so interesting!

How about getting Secretary Kellogg to devise another anti-war treaty to be signed by Dr. Work and Senator Moses?—The Worcester Evening Gazette.

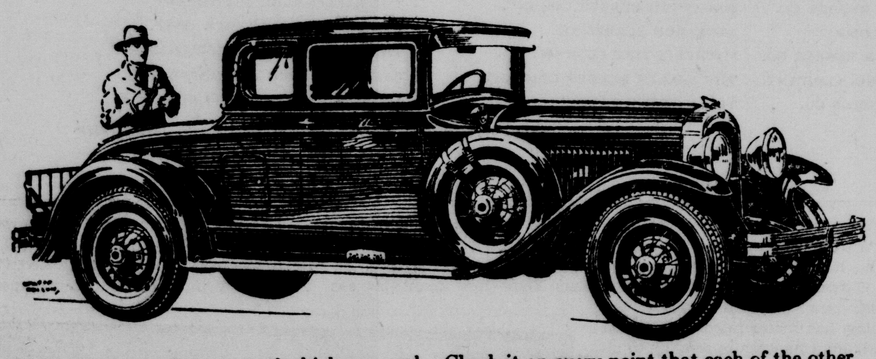
. . to do ALL THINGS WELL—as a pencil and five cent note book will prove



Almost every car that roams the highways and byways today is alleged to have some particular virtue in which it excels.

That you who buy these automobiles may have some basis for fair comparison, Reo makes this simple suggestion.

Try it out with each of the two, three, four, or more automobiles you demonstrate before you buy. A pencil and five cent note book can be your only tools.

After each demonstration jot down those things which impressed you most in the car you've just driven: the acceleration—the steering—the riding—the speed—the comfort—the style—or whatever the outstandingly impressive points may have been.

Do this for each car you try.

Then drive the Reo Flying Cloud of 1929 with your note book before you.

Check it on every point that each of the other cars did well. Check its top speed against the fastest of the others.

Stand off twenty feet and compare the Reo Flying Cloud's lines with the handsomest of the others.

Point it up hills which only a few of the others could climb handily.

Stop it on shorter notice than the best of the others.

Pit it against the flashiest performer you've driven when the stop light turns green. Take the rough roads faster than you dared to in the easiest riding of the other cars.

We know what your answer will be. For the Reo Flying Cloud of 1929 is built like the famous clipper ship for which it is named—built to do all things well.

Kellogg To Sign Treaty In Room Where Wilson Outlined Nation's League

(International News Service)

PARIS, Aug. 16.—When Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg of the United States signs the anti-war treaty at the French foreign office, he will sit in the same room where sat President Woodrow Wilson when he gave the powers his outline of the League of Nations. In fact, the League of Nations was born at that time in the very room where Mr. Kellogg, acting for the United States, will place his name on the pact designed to outlaw war.

It is not known what official designation will be given the treaty. It may be known merely as "a treaty to preserve the peace through banishment of war." However, that title may be adopted.

That the American secretary of state is coming to Paris to gain any additional light he can upon the Anglo-French agreement for naval limitation is indicated in cablegrams from Washington.

So far as known the agreement is nothing more than an understanding and has never been put in concrete treaty form.

The agreement is understood to cover a number of points, most of which were discussed at Geneva last year when President Coolidge's naval limitation conference broke down. Chief interest, however, seems to center upon the clauses touching cruisers under 10,000 tons and submarines under 600 tons. It is the general belief that England and France have both agreed to limiting construction of aircraft of those categories.

News From Camp East Brook

(Contributed)

Well, I'm still alive, and I've "lived to tell the tale", but Wham-de-doodle-wham, we newcomers at Camp East Brook were put through a stiff initiation on Monday evening!

We had to wear our bathing suits backwards when we went to Lakewood Beach for swimming, and from the stares and snickers of the other bathers, we deduced that they thought we were a bunch of lunatics rather than the sedate (?) and well-behaved (?) girls of East Brook Camp.

At supper the newcomers were forbidden to speak a word on the pain of being sent to the front of the room to perform ridiculous "stunts". Sherman and Shenkan (partners in crime) had a rather difficult time trying to perform together, as they couldn't make their wishes known to each other except by "deaf and dumb" signs. Dances, speeches and songs and piano numbers, formed most of the "stunts" and they were executed ridiculously. After supper, we were blindfolded and sent through a paddling machine, at the end of which we were dipped in water and flour, later to discover that we were covered with a paste about the consistency of nice "gooey" mud.

After this refreshing treatment, we were again blindfolded and led to the "river" which we later found out to be only a wash tub filled with water. We were told to fish for crabs and I do not think that a real crab could pinch any harder than did the "human crabs". We next gave the East Brook code of promised obedience, and then were branded with a red hot iron (it happened to be a sharp piece of ice) and the letter E was painted on our chest with old Indian "tatoo" paint (commonly called mercurachrome). When we went to bed that night, thankful that the hard day was over, we found combs and brushes and other miscellaneous articles under the sheet, upon which we were supposed to innocently recline. Perhaps the old campers thought that by doing this, they would accustom us to sleeping on the ground on the overnight hike which took place on Tuesday night.

We started this hike in the evening and carried our blankets slung over one shoulder in a smooth roll—true camper's style. When we reached the spot for our sojourn, we carried wood and started a bonfire. We all gathered around it and sang silly songs until we began to feel sentimental and think of home-sweet-home. Then we quit singing and one person started an original story, broke off in an exciting place and left the next girl take it up from there—and so on down the line. A story that was a ridiculous mixture of haunted houses, cabbages and old women, resulted.

After taps we rolled into the beds that we had made of our blankets. Two girls had watch of the fire for one hour and then they surrendered their places to two new girls. I think we were all particularly brave (I can hear boys' scornful laughter) especially as none of us screamed when an old owl hooted and also because we didn't mind (very much) the cows which were ambling gently around and gazing into our sweet, joyous, intelligent, hopeful, etc. faces. In the morning we viewed a georgeous sunrise and did away with an equally georgeous breakfast of fried bacon and eggs, crisp rolls and fresh fruit.

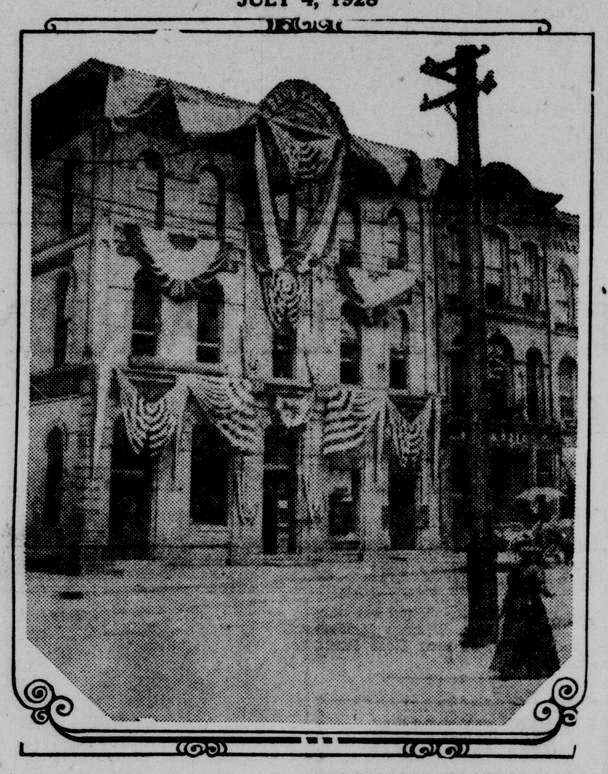
Wednesday evening was guest night and it certainly made us feel good to see our parents and friends from town. We had a big corn roast to finish the jolliest half-week I ever spent.

Deacon Brown was shocked by the wickedness of New York, but he wasted three fruitless days before he asked a taxi driver to show it to him.

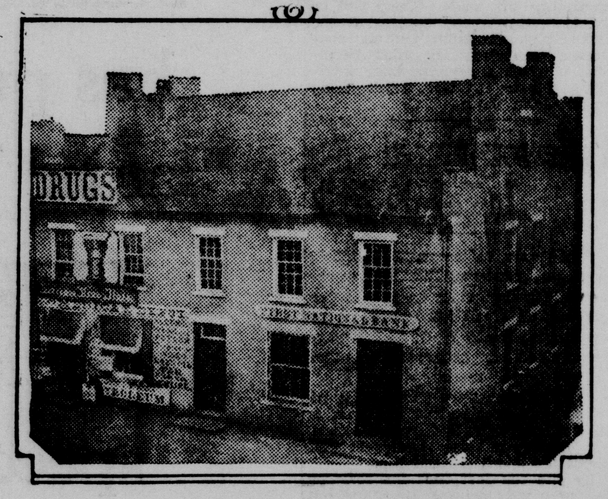
There's a difference. A Democratic campaign contribution is a bet instead of a retaining fee.

Progress Of Years At Mercer-Washington Street Corner Shown

JULY 4, 1928



JULY 4, 1890



JULY 4, 1865

In connection with the coming public opening of the magnificent new home of the First National Bank of Lawrence county, the above pictures are shown, to tell the story of actual progress by the bank; the community, and of the corner of Washington and North Mercer streets, one of the oldest and busiest corners of the city.

The above pictures show this corner, the site of the First National Bank of Lawrence County, as it appeared in three successive generations, and the structures typifying the progress made by this community and the county.

As is indicated, these pictures show the corner as it was on the national birthday anniversary, the Fourth of July, in three very interesting periods in the history of the United States.

On July 4, 1865 is pictured the original home of the First National Bank, showing its small beginning at a period of time, when the country had just passed through one of the greatest crisis of its history, the Civil War.

It will be noted that on the actual corner is what we now term a drug store, but which in those days was designated as an Apothecary Shop. This was owned and operated by William B. Horner, father of the late Howard H. Horner, whom it will be remembered was a veteran and honored employe of the First National Bank. The other half of this then pretentious building was occupied by the First National Bank. The signs on this Apothecary Shop indicate it was also known as a Medicine Depot. Its stock in trade included the medicines of that day and lard, tallow, tar, petroleum, alcohol, and similar articles of trade.

The First National Bank as pictured in 1865 was chartered under the National Bank Act in 1864 and had previously been known as Phillips Brothers' Bank.

During the civil War, Samuel Foltz Sr., and his father-in-law, William Stewart were making iron at the old furnace stack now standing along the Slippery Rock Creek, near Rose Point. They shipped their finished product over the old Erie Canal from New Castle to Pittsburgh, where it was made into cannon and cannon balls.

This product sold at a very high price during the war and when the war was over, Mr. Foltz and Mr. Stewart moved to New Castle and bought the Phillips Brothers' Bank and also the property, which was known as the Pierce Hotel.

The National Bank of Lawrence county was at this time called the Bank of New Castle and was located on the site of what is now the location of the National Market.

The second picture dated July 4, 1890 brings to mind the late George and Charles Greer, who started the Greer tin mill in the nineties, an industry which was then in its infancy in this country. They were successful and their effort resulted in the establishing of what is now one of the greatest industries of the city. Their effort marked the starting of the industrial expansion of the city, which has continued so rapidly until the present day.

The First National Bank and the National Bank of Lawrence county as pictured in their joint location in 1890, made possible this and other pioneer industries of the city. Many were the conferences and development plans for New Castle's industries carried out in the "back rooms" of these old original banks.

The close association of these two banks and their great number of common interests, there being influential men of the community who were directors in both institutions, resulted in the merged bank now known as the First National Bank of Lawrence County.

The merger was completed January 1, 1927 and the picture dated July 4, 1928 shows the culmination of the desire to house this great banking institution in a place in keeping with the progress of the community and the bank.

Two Arrested In Connection With McLoon Slaying

Third Suspect In Killing Of Hughey McLoon Expected To Be Arrested Soon

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—Two arrests were made today in connection with the slaying of Hughey McLoon, little hunchback and former mascot of the Philadelphia Athletics. A third suspect will be in custody by tomorrow, police predicted.

The suspects arrested are: Samuel Grossman, charged with suspicion of murder of McLoon and Mary Gilbert, 23, charged with being an accessory before the fact of the murder of McLoon.

The arrests following close on the slaying of Daniel O'Leary, gangster, as he slept in an apartment house yesterday.

With the slaying of McLoon and O'Leary a toll of 13 lives has been taken by gang wars in Philadelphia this year.

St. Paul's Church To Have Service

Friday, August 17 marks the sixth anniversary of the founding of St. Paul's Baptist church of which Rev. W. L. Engram is pastor. The anniversary is to be observed in a fitting manner. A special program has been arranged by the committee. This will include a sermon Friday evening by Rev. W. M. Hodge, pastor of Bethel A. M. E. church and music by the choir of that church.

Esther Fisher, Georgiana McNees, Agnes McNees, Mildred Pratt and Jennie Johnston, all of this city, will leave Saturday for Edinboro Lake, where they expect to camp for one week.

Old Sores and Ulcers Can Be Healed!

"This sincere letter," says Peterson, "gave me another happy day and as nearly every mail brings praise for Peterson's Ointment, is it any wonder that I keep cheerful all the time?"

"Dear Sirs: I had a bad leg for 20 years, tried everything but no benefit. I tried Peterson's Ointment and five 35 cent boxes healed my leg. I can never praise it enough. My leg was so painful at first that I had to put fresh ointment on every two hours, night and day. It stopped the pain at once. Mrs. Mark Richards, Lake Linden, Mich."

Besides running and old sores and ulcers, Peterson's Ointment is just as good for piles, eczema, itching skin, sore feet, prickly heat, sunburn, chafing, cuts, burns, bruises, scalds and scores of other ailments as any druggist anywhere will tell you. A generous box 35 cents.

Post Cards From Europe

by William Ivy

PARIS, Aug. 16.—It is extremely puzzling to hear one traveler, just back from France, say, that everything is dirt cheap, while another who has been over the same itinerary will declare that everything is sky-high. Which to belive?

A key to the mystery might be found in this illustration:

Not many days ago I found myself at midday with two companions in a little village not far from Tours. We knew that the place boasted a tiny inn where the proprietress did her own cooking and was known for miles around as a master of the culinary art. So naturally we lunched there Here was the menu:

Hors-d'oeuvre—including a famous pork patty and a slice of first-rate melon.

Lobster "a l'americaine", a dish unfortunately unknown in America. The name is a corruption of "armoricaine," and means Breton. The lobster is served hot with a sauce in which choppe1 truffles and mushrooms play a prominent part.

Roast duck, served in its abundant juice, with fresh green peas. (A whole duck was served for the three of us.)

Salad, cheese, pastry and fruit.

The price of the lunch was 30 francs, or $1.15, and I feel sure that anybody who paid that price for it would go right home and say that French meals were practically given away.

Our bill, however, was not 90 francs but 220, which is nearly $3 per cover. And most travelers would feel that such a price, in a country hostelry, was cause for a kick.

But we paid it with a smile. We knew that the lobster demanded the best white wine obtainable—and we obtained a bottle of Meursault 1919 for the bargain price of $1.50. And we craved a Chambertin with the duck—a rich ruby Burgundy of 1915 that set us back $2.25. After lunch we wanted black coffee and a tiny drop of old brandy.

The lunch at $1.15 was a bargain, of course; but it was even cheaper, and a hundred times better, at $3.

This Man Says Konjola Ended Health Trouble

Nervousness Banished By This Medicine; Also Restored His Appetite.

Seavy Photo

Twenty-two different roots and herbs combined with other recognized medical ingredients, go into the making of the new Konjola medicine. Sufferers from every section of New Castle are praising this compound after it relieved them of disorders of the liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels. Stubborn cases of rheumatism and neuritis have been ended. The Konjola Man is personally explaining the merits of this new compound, to vast crowds of people every day and at the same time many well known men and women are strongly indorsing this remedy. For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. W. E. Erk, 734 County Line street, this city, made the following statement to the Konjola Man who is at the Love and Megown Drug Store, 204 East Washington Street, New Castle. Mr. Erk is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"After the wonderful way Konjola benefited me, I cannot help but to praise this medicine to others", said Mr. Erk, "It strengthened my entire system and restored my health to me".

"Some time ago my system became rundown in general and as the day passed, I gradually became worse until I thought nothing would help me. I did not have any appetite and although the food I managed to eat did not harm me, at the same time, I was unable to gain any nourishment from it. Of course, this condition soon affected my nerves and the least bit of noise upset me. It was impossible for me to even hold a glass of water in my hands without spilling it. My work became drudgery to me and when I tried to rest my nerves kept me from being still for any length of time. When I went to bed at night I would roll and toss for hours before going to sleep and then when I did get to sleep, I was so restless that by the time I got up in the morning I felt almost as if I had not been to bed at all.

"However, all that is changed now, because I have taken Konjola and this medicine turned out to be exactly what my system had always needed. With every dose I could almost feel the soothing and healing effect it had on my system and every day I began feeling better. I was steadily gaining in strength until I now feel like a different person. My nerves are now in perfect condition and never cause me the least bit of trouble any more. Konjola also restored my appetite and made it possible for me to gain the proper nourishment from the food I eat. At night when I go to bed I know that I will have sound and refreshing sleep. I have more energy and vigor than ever before and it is a pleasure to do my work. Since Konjola gave me new and glorious health I feel that it is my duty to tell others about the splendid merits of this medicine and that is my reason for making this public indorsement."

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown Drug Store, 204 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Patterson Injured In Fall On Walk

Paul Brown Patterson, 320 Fairfield avenue, is recovering from bruises received Tuesday when he fell to the sidewalk on Washington street as he was leaving the Y. W. C. A. Mr. Patterson's heel caught in some way and he was hurled to the pavement.

Examinations have shown that no bones were broken, but his wrist is injured, while the ligaments are torn. Mr. Patterson was badly bruised about the shoulders and hip.

Despite the fact that the soreness has been very painful, Mr. Patterson expects to be out and attending to his work again tomorrow.

A bottle has been picked up on the English coast containing a message purporting to be from the lost flyers, Elsie Mackay and Captain Hinchcliffe. The contents of all bottles these days are open to suspicion.—The Muncie Morning Star.

Weekly Summary Of Iron And Steel

Business Holding Up In Surprising Volume Says Iron Age

The Iron Age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade says:

Mid-August finds business holding up to the surprising volume of the past several weeks without, however, signs of increases in the immediate future. The one exception is that the steel requirements for pipe for the steel industry are mounting rapidly. Otherwise, strictly new buying is on the whole not of impressive proportions. Seasonal expansion for fall needs, as in rails and wire products, cannot be expected before September.

Active specifying against contract purchases, often accompanied by demand for quick delivery because of low stocks, has lifted operations in the general Pittsburgh area to nearer 85 per cent of capacity than 80 per cent or somewhat above the late July rate. In the Chicago district, specifications compare closely in volume with those of the first week of August, but for the most part they call for the lighter tonnage commodities and ingot output there has not increased.

The price trend is toward higher levels. Cold finished steel bars and shafting, including screw stock, have been advanced $2 a ton, restoring the base of 2.20c, Pittsburgh or Chicago, and preparing for a higher base for fourth quarter sales, provided hot rolled bars hold the $2 increase recently announced for the same period. New higher prices also have been named for last quarter sheet sales, and billets and other semi-finished steel are believed to be headed for a rise.

The oil industry has brought a brisk demand for pipe for the New Santa Fe, Cal., oil field, and several pipe lines again are under active negotiation. A 250-mile line has just been closed, and 480-mile line of 24-inch pipe from the Panhandle to Omaha under consideration for some months, is an early likelihood and progress is being made on a 500-mile line to St. Louis. For oil tanks for the Texas & Pacific 3000 tons of plate and 300 tons of large rivets will be required.

Several thousand tons of rails have been bought in the week, representing extra requirements for early delivery. Included were 1000 tons for the Wheeling & Lake Erie, on top of 2500 tons purchased two weeks ago, 1700 tons for the Southern and 2000 tons for the St. Louis & Southwestern.

The Missouri-Kansas-Texas has closed for 500 cars. For miscellaneous needs, the Pennsylvania is inquiring for 25,000 tons of plates, shapes and bars and the Great Northern for 6000 tons. Although fabricated structural steel bookings, totaling only 25,000 tons, amounted to about half the average of recent weeks, continued activity is indicated by new projects calling for more than 37,000 tons. Subway work in New York accounts for 2,000 tons of this total.

Nails show a sharp rise in demand. Mill output having dropped to a 60 per cent rate now gives promise of expanding particularly with the fall trade in prospect. No price advances are talked of, stabilization having yet to be thoroughly realized, following the Steel corporation recent reduction to the mid-point of the widespread that existed among prices.

Pig iron sales at Cleveland totaled 84,000 tons, one of the largest weekly totals of the year, following bookings of 100,000 tons in the previous fortnight. In New York 16,000 tons was sold in addition to 30,000 tons bought for various plants by a maker of heating equipment. Selling pressure from steel company furnaces is abating with increased use of pig iron in open hearth mixtures. Prices have a firmer tone in the central west, but in the east attractive tonnages are still bringing out concessions. Much of the business done is for the fourth quarter, indicating that many foundries believe the market is scraping bottom and that there is no advantage in postponing buying.

Heavy melting scrap at Pittsburgh has advanced another 50c a ton, making a recovery of $1.50 to $2 above the recent low point. Scarcity of scrap in the face of efforts of dealers to cover short sales indicates that the advance has not yet run its course.

The more we know what really is, the less does material fact harmonize with the perceptual experience. We live in a world of illusions.—Lord Balfour.

Warrant Issued For Arrest Of Roy C. Toombs

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16.—Prosecuting Attorney Sidner has issued a warrant calling for the arrest of Roy C. Toombs, president of the International Life Insurance company here, charging him with grand larceny.

Sidner's action followed receipt of word from Chicago that Toombs had been released by a Chicago court Wednesday.

Meanwhile word was received here that attaches of the attorney general's office had started a search of the records of the Downers Grove State Bank and Trust company, another Toombs financial enterprise. They are said to be looking for reputed missing assets of the insurance company.

In his information on which the arrest warrant was issued Sidner charged Toombs with the theft of $104,000 worth of International Life bonds.

Beer Runners Are Injured In Crash Near Monaca, Pa.

(International News Service)

BEAVER, Pa., Aug. 16.—Two alleged beer runners are in Rochester General hospital suffering minor injuries received when their truck and trailer upset on the broadhead road near Monaca.

Less than one-half of the 350 cases of beer in their cargo are stored in the court house cellar. Puzzle—What became of the rest of the beer?

It disappeared between the time of the accident and the time authorities came to haul away the evidence.

The driver of the truck, William Edwards, 36 of Detroit, and Leslie Andrews, 18 are under arrest.

Civil War Vets In Last Reunion

Remaining Heroes Of Ranks Of Blue Disband As Organization

Old time airs filled the atmosphere and the march to the final meeting of the Lawrence Count Veterans' association was on Wednesday afternoon. The march with the veterans in line began shortly after 3 o'clock at the entrance to Cascade park and when another hour had rolled around the last meeting had been recorded in the book of minutes.

It was an impressive sight and a heart-throbbing experience to see those men, who at one time in their career had carried rifles and bore the colors of this nation. They were to meet for their last gathering as an organization.

A march was played by the Old Timers' band, composed of Emmet Long, Charles McCaskey, John Rearic, Harvey Brest and Evan Jones, and the "boys" began their trek to the bandstand where the farewell to the association was held.

Meeting Opens.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by the Rev. Samuel A. Maitland, pastor of the Greenwood M. E. church, who is a son of one of the veterans. Following this came a report of last year's meeting from the secretary, C. B Hamilton.

Then came the formal move to disband. A motion was passed that this would be the final gathering of the association.

Ralph M. Campbell, who acted in an advisory capacity for the veterans, told the old soldires that Rev. Maitland had accepted the invitation to talk to them for a few moments, and also told them that the speaker had the distinction of being a son of one of the soldiers.

Rev. Maitland expressed the feeling of the old timers as they gathered there to say good-bye to the association. He asked God to bless the gentlemen and to prolong their days. He reviewed the history of the organization and concluded by saying that it was a sad occasion but that the time was coming when many similar groups thoughout the land will have disbanded.

Turn Books Over to Sons.

D. M. Clarke, the commander of the organization, then moved to have the books and the records of the association handed over to the Oscar L. Jackson camp, Sons of Union Veterans, for safe keeping throughout the coming years. This was seconded and approved.

Again Rev. Maitland was called upon, this time to deliver the closing prayer, to dismiss the men who had fought for their country and had given their best in a time of crisis so many years ago. As the word "amen" left Rev. Maitland's lips, the old timers at once mingled with each other, eager to talk again with comrades whom some had not seen for a year. Their days as members of a Civil war association had ended but their days of comradeship were just being renewed.

Side Lights On Old Timers' Day

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sankey of Crafton, were also a part of the grand parade and march. They have been married 59 years which was not quite long enough to take the prize for the couple that were longest married.

They told the reporter that they had been married a long time and lived a long time simply because they were happy.

"If you are happy you don't want to be apart and besides you will live longer and healthier," they said.

Mr. and Mrs. Sankey were former New Castle folks. Mrs. Sankey who is 82 years of age lived in what was called Mullentown or about where the electric plant on West Washington is at the present time.

One of the oldest of the ladies present was Mrs. E. J. Patterson of the Youngstown road near the city. She is 90 years old and expects to attend many more reunions and enjoy them as much as she did the one yesterday, she said.

"Though I'm not as agile as I was at one time, I feel good and think old age needn't keep a person from moving around and dancing and having a good time."

Others of the old timers who were promenading and quadrilling around the dance floor were Mrs. M. E. Hodill, of Harmony, Pa. She hated to tell her age, she said, and when the reporter said he would put her down as 100, she consented with a ready smile to his suggestion.

John Steel, formerly of this city, and now of Oil City, R. M. Leslie, 81, of Court street, Robert Wilson, 83, of North Beaver, and David Clark, of Mt. Jackson, the latter two, Civil War veterans, Mrs. W. H. McConnell, 75, of East New Castle, who is the last of her generation that have always lived here in the city, J. Crawford White, 79, of Euclid avenue, who grand marched with a woman 90, Walter McGranahan, 86, of Hadley, and a score of other old timers were dancing and enjoying themselves to the fullest extent.

James Meehan, 84, who was a former New Castle resident but who has been living in Youngstown for the past 25 years was back dancing every dance.

He has attended every old timers reunion and says he intends to keep coming as long as Youngstown is no farther from New Castle than it is now.

J. F. Barnett of Energy was out to put in the day among his old friends at Cascade Park yesterday where the Old Timers gathered for their annual reunion. Mr. Barnett is 74 years of age.

When informed of The News man's identity, Mr. Barnett stated that he had been taking The New Castle News ever since it was founded, and likes it considerably. He was a former neighbor of Fred L. Rentz, President of The News Co.

Mrs. Mary Tidball of Maryland avenue of this city who is 91 was dancing too.

"The old dances, the polkas and the Virginia reel as well as the waltzes are much better than the modern dances," she said." Nowadays, they don't dance, they just walk around on the floor with no idea where they are going."

Mrs. Tidball was married before the Civil War and lived through the years of it on a farm near East Brook. People in the last war, she said, "knew nothing about hard times. I knew many families that had nothing to eat during the Civil War right up here in the north. I know it for a fact for I gave away several sacks of flour to neighbors who had nothing to eat."

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wagner of 23 North Mercer street, this city, were awarded the prize of ten dollars in gold for being the oldest couple on the grounds. Both are upwards of eighty years of age, and have been married for 62 years.

Mrs. Wagner declares that Mr. Wagner and she have been present at most all of the Old Timer's reunions and hope to attend many more. Asked as to what she attributes to her husband's and her own long life, Mrs. Wagner stated that she really didn't know—only that they had led an ordinary life. For the past six years they have been going to Florida each winter, returning to New Castle the following spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner were about the busiest persons at the park yesterday afternoon, for they were constantly shaking hands and receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jonas, former newspaperman of New Castle, now a newspaper publisher of Crafton, who have attended most of the reunions here returned for the get-together this season and they were busy dancing, greeting friends and cementing new friendships.

Mr. and Mrs. John De Normandie of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson, Aliquippa, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hannon, DuBois, Mrs. Leroy Welch of Washington and Tom Platt of Oil City were at the park, busy greeting old friends.

Mrs. James Dunn of Cleveland with her son, his wife and family were here. It is the first time in years that she has been here. Her son is known in boxing circles as "Jimmie" Dunn and he is a frequent visitor. She spent many happy hours renewing friendships.

James Meeghan of Youngstown, known as "Jimmy" was in the crowd and C. M. Carruthers, Wilkinsburg who departed when he was three years old came back. Mrs. Sadie McMillen, 82, this city was in the pavilion as was Mrs. V. S. Mayberry, Portsmouth, Va., Mrs. Levina M. Weller, 87, of Chicago and Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly Campbell of Beaver.

Mrs. Mary A. Dart, 85, grandmother of "Peg", the girl who answers all of the telephone calls at The New Castle News, was an interested spectator while the Grand March and other dances were on. Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Orr, Leetonia, O., also attended the reunion.

William Potter and daughter of Hollidaysburg "came home" for the picnic. He is affiliated with the Y. M. C. A. in that town.

Mrs. Ella James of Wilkinsburg and her sister, Mrs. James Cunningham, were among the persons seated in the pavilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gwinn came with their daughter Mrs. Ed. Foster and her son from Chippewa Falls and asked about a family named Cummings. A News reporter quickly advised them where the Cummings could be located. They reside along the New Wilmington highway.

J. R. Steele, 80, who was in business here 53 years ago in "Pittsburgh Street" now East Washington street came from Oil City. When in business here he was a member of the firme of Steele, Hoskins & McCaskey. He is retired now.

The committee in charge of the picnic is composed of Harvey E. McGoun, W. T. Butz, secretary-treasurer and committeemen, J. D. Long, Scott Paisley, R. H. Whaley, Joseph Hannon, E. D. Morrison and R. M. Campbell and great credit is due them for the success of the picnic.

William Fitch, 88, 4126 Van Buren, Chicago, arrived at the park looking for J. P Sankey "I was one of the first scholars in Martin Gantz school and I'm looking for that J. P. Sankey. He got me a good licking once so I'm out after him," said the aged gentleman in a jocular vein. He was directed to where the gentleman from Crafton was seated.

John A. Schweikert, 71, of Jacksonville, Fla., had a long trip north, but he was amply repaid for this trip by his meeting with former friends. Mr. Schweikert is one of the men who came from a long distance to help make the day enjoyable for himself and others.

Mrs. E. J. Pattison, 90, R. F. D. 7, New Castle, was an interested person. She found enjoyment in watching the dancing and participated in the grand march and was one of the most elderly ladies at the reunion.

A. C. Bales, veteran of the 100th Pa. in the Civil war, came in from Dayton. He is afflicted with a touch of deafness but enjoyed himself very much. He left here 26 years ago and went out with "the boys" in 1861.

A group was located in discussion under a shade tree along the midway. The group consisted of W. C. Newton, 73, Energy; A. R. Carr, 83, city; Tom Wilson, 88, of "Possum Hollow"; S. W. Davis, 82, city; F. K. Squire, 79, Grove City; John Holt, 77, city; John Rearic, 75, and Alec Newell, 80.

Alec Newell has lived on the East Side for 35 years and has witnessed the development of the section. In his younger days there were few houses on the far east side but now it is a very populous district and covered with splendid residences.

D. M. Clark of Mount Jackson, who has turned 82 years back of him, was in the reunion as was E. J. Hazen, 76, of Ellwood City. The latter has a long white beard and he stepped along with the grace of a man 20 years his junior.

They were sitting together on one of the park benches. In the dance hall the figures were being called. Down the hill the youngest old timers were clambering on the merry-go-round.

They did not speak to each other, did A. C. Bails, who is 89 years old, and now hails from Dayton, O., and E. L. Jones, 75, of Youngstown. Each seemed afraid of the other: each seemed to fear making the break.

Old Mr. Bails' hand quivered as he removed his old clay pipe from his month, knocked out the dottle of his old clay pipe against a carved wooden cane. It was not his first old timers picnic, but his friends were not there. So he sat alone.

Although he was on the same bench E. L. Jones of Youngstown also sat alone. All his life, until very recently, he had lived in Lawrence county, had been a resident of Perry township, but now he had no friends either. Finally the ice was broken and the two old timers talked of this and that, but mostly of "do you remember when . . . ?"

One year ago Arney W. Biddle, who lives on the top of the Youngstown hill, grasped Oscar's hand and started out for the old timers' picnic. One year ago he lost Oscar. One year ago he had a hard time finding Oscar.

But this year it was different for Mr. Biddle, 81 years old. This year the whole family, including his wife and daughter and her two children came to the picnic.

Mr. Biddle was born near Edenburg on June 22, 1847. And he has attended every old timers' picnic so far.

Now he has another attendant, and her name is Esther. In her company he expects to attend many more.

"These old timers' affairs are not what they used to be," is the contention of A. L. Conn, who also has attended every old timers' picnic since the movement was started.

For 20 years Mr. Conn has watched the midway at each of the affairs, and each year many people come into his little studio to meet each other and to talk of old times.

But not this year. This year, somehow, is different. The really old timers are fast disappearing. Their places are being taken by a group of new old timers, not quite so old as Mr. Conn's pals, but, getting there.

Mrs. Jane Blair, 93, of Milton street, won the prize for being the oldest lady attending the reunion. In fact she was the oldest person who attended.

Mrs. Blair was born in Ireland, and came to the United States at the age of 10. She resided in Mercer county for many years near Cochranton.

She has been attending the reunions for many years now and for the past four years has won the prize for being the oldest lady to attend.

"To what do you attribute the fact that you have lived so long," asked the reporter, to which she replied, "hard work."

"What do you think of the young people of today?"

"They have too much pleasure and not enough work. The young folks of today do not get enough exercise," said Mrs. Blair.

"Do you believe in companiate marriage? Do you think marriages are as sound as they were back many years ago?"

"No, absolutely not, I think divorces are terrible. There is too much outside pleasure today and the married couples do not pay enough attention to each other."

"What do you think is the cause of it," asked the reporter.

"There is not enough religion. People are paying too little attention to good olf-fashioned religion nowadays and the result is divorce. The young people need more religion and less pleasure."

Mrs. Blair is a constant reader of present day publications and knows what's going on in the modern era. She is quite active and says she will be at several more reunions.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jones of Youngstown, Ohio, celebrated two occasions yesterday. It was their golden anniversary and they celebrated it by coming to the Old Timer's reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are aged 73 and 70 respectively.

They were former residents of Portersville and moved to Youngstown some years ago. They are coming back and all their old friends in this vicinity are planning a celebration in their honor at Etna Springs on August 18.

Mrs. Jane Knapp, 83, of Pittsburgh, came up alone to the reunion as she has done every year for many years. Mrs. Knapp lived in New Castle in the district that is now Greenwood avenue, but in those days it was over the river and out of the village. She moved to Pittsburgh 52 years ago.

"One would never imagine that the little village would ever have become so large," stated Mrs. Knapp. "It is a truly remarkable city now."

Another of the ladies who were tripping the grand march in a spry fashion was Mrs. Annie Rees, 86, of Patterson avenue. Mrs. Rees has attended the reunion for 20 years and has not missed a one.

She danced many times during the afternoon and said she enjoyed each succeeding one more than the last one.

J. K. McCormick, a former resident of this city but now of Warren, O., was another visitor from out of town at the Old Timer's free-for-all at Cascade yesterday.

Mr. McCormick, one of five brothers, formerly resided on the southern side of town, near a place then called Long's Lane, but Long avenue today. "All of the streets down there were called lanes then," he explained.

The Warren old timer had four brothers, all of whom were well known in this city before their death. "There was W. R., A. S., S. L., and H. S., and myself," he continued. "I'm the last only one left now."

Mr. McCormick declared that it was hard to find any of his friends at the picnic yesterday on account of the large crowd. Nevertheless he likes to come and be with the "girls and boys" of his day to celebrate the day.

"We buried my sister, who was Miss Elizabeth J. Sheddin out in Los Angeles last week," he said. "She was 95 years of age and was known by hundreds."

McCormick now makes his home with one of his daughters in Warren, where he has been living for many years.

Rev. F. B. McAllister To Preach Sunday In First Baptist

Rev. Frederick B. McAllister, pastor of the First Baptist church at Royal Oak, Mich., will preach next Sunday, August 19, at both the morning and evening services in the First Baptist church of this city of which he is a former pastor.

It is expected that Rev. McAllister will be greeted by large congregations at both services.

While in the city Rev. McAllister will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J Q. L. Roberts of Park avenue

Eat Onion Each Day; Keep Tobacco Away!

That Is Needler's Advice As To How To Live To Be 89

That is Dave Needler's advice to those who would reach 89.

Eat an onion daily.

Dave Needler, 89, veteran of the Civil War and a resident of Edenburg who captured the prize for being the eldest man present at the Old-Timers picnic, Cascade Park, attributes his longevity to the fact that he eats an onion each day and does not use tobacco.

"To live to be 89, one must not have any bad habits because a habit once formed must be fought and it is hard to conquer.

"Eat an onion every day. At least I have," said Needler as he was showered with congratulations.

"Do you use tobacco?"

"No, not me. I used it once and it was hard to quit but I won out. It was just like trying to break out of this crowd; almost impossible but I got away from it.

"One cannot have any bad habits and reach long age" he said.

OLD-TIMERS AGAIN MINGLE TOGETHER

as the quick strains of the instruments apparently rejuvenated the muscles which kept harmony with the spirit.

Finally the committee, each and every one of them an old-timer, entered the pavilion, accompanied by Colonel Dan Mooney and his aide, Ralph Campbell.

"Get your partners!" was the command from Colonel Dan, and the line in two's formed quickly, with Harvey E. McGoun and his daughter, Mrs. Fannie Gormley, at the head of the pageant.

Figures erect as possible that nature and age would permit, the old-timers watched for the signal and when the orchestra "struck up" the music—

Grand March Starts

The grand march was on!

Up the floor, then down the floor, the venerable marched, some bent with age, others stepping sprightly.

Then they came in fours, finally in eights and last 16 abreast.

A loud round of applause broke forth from the sons, daughters, relatives and other persons present as the march ended.

As soon as it was finished Hugh Hannon, as "caller", and the orchestra went into action.

Quadrilles and all of the old-time dances of yesteryear found eager participants.

Finally the torrid heat forced many out of the dances and they were content to seat themselves along the dance hall and watch their fellow pioneers carry on as in the days of old.

While the pioneers are aged, it necessarily does not mean that they did not have a good time, because they did, and lots of them visited the different amusements.

Prizes Awarded

During the day prizes were awarded for age, persons married longest and also for the person who had come from the longest distance to attend the reunion.

Mrs. Jane Blair, 95, was the eldest lady and also the oldest person at the park, and Dave Needler, now 89, won the prize for being the oldest pioneer present.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wagner, 86 and 82, took the award for being married the longest, 62 years, while Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Weller and Mr. and Mrs. David Kerr were second and third.

A. C. Bales, Dayton, who registered as 89 years old, could not be located when the award was made and the committee bestowed the prize for the men's age on Mr. Needler.

Mrs. Blair was in the grand march, as was Mr. Needler. The couples married the longest also participated in the event and danced the quadrille.

David Young of Oakland, Cal., traveled 2,662 miles to be present once again with his boyhood chums and was given a prize for having once again traveled the longest distance.

There were old-timers from Chippewa Falls, Wis., and Mrs. Ann Tidball, 91, of this city was also present and was one of the oldest persons in the park.

At four o'clock the group commenced dwindling and very few of the pioneers were present at eight o'clock, but all left breathing a silent prayer that they could meet their friends again next year.

Girl Scouts Enjoying Second Week Of Camp

Girl Scouts of New Castle are now having the time of their lives at Camp Hinasiwaha. This Indian name for the camp was chosen after some debate, and it has a special significance. It stands for hiking, nature, singing, water and handcraft, which are some of the important activities of the camp.

This is the second week of camp. Most of the girls who were out for the first week have stayed over for the second. At present there are 33 girls in camp.

The representatives from troop 3 are: Elizabeth Dripps, Edythe Johnston, Dorothea Johnston, Ruth Hand, Mary Ellen Riemer and Hazel Smith. Those from troop 6 are: Joan Veach, Grace Bauder, Edna Raney, Wilda Reeher, Anna Mary Alexander, Ruth Bauder, Bobbie Broida, Helen Whitlatch, Mary Christman, Catherine Cunningham, Ruth Whitlatch, Kathryn Taylor, Helen Book, Rita Rose Hite, Jane Lloyd, Bernice Forrest, Ruth Conner, Beatrice Conner, Florence Burry, Evelyn Raney and Betty Kane. From troop 7: Margaret St. Clair. From troop 1: Jean Hicks, Sally Lou Byers, Cleo Boughter, Jane Byers, Kathryn Hopper, Emily Parker, Norma Beltrame, Virginia Armstrong, Marian McNees, Geraldine Fry, Olive Fern Sanford, Mary Hays, Mary Nunn and Jean Hofmeister.

Several girls not registered with any troop are also in attendance: Clarabelle Clark, Kathryn Veach, June Travers, Velma Freed, Elizabeth Ero and Kathryn Elder.

One pleasant variation from the camp routine was a picnic supper last Saturday evening. Each patrol, under the supervision of its leader, hiked to a different spot and got some experience in campfire cooking. Later at the big campfire, in which the whole camp participated, several scholarships were awarded for the second week's stay. The following girls received the scholarships: Hazel Smith, Dorothea Johnston, Helen Whitlatch, Elizabeth Phipps, Jane Byers, Rita Rose Hite and Jane Lloyd.

Honors for achievement in swimming were announced. Practically every girl in camp has learned to swim and quite a number have passed the swimmer's test. Katheryn Hopper passed the junior life-saving test.

On Sunday evening the special ceremony, "Scout's Own", was observed. One girl bearing a lighted candle represented the Spirit of Scouting. The 10 Scout laws were each represented by a girl who lit her candle at the light of the Spirit.

Two periods of each morning are given over to the study and practice of Scoutcraft. Nature work and similar activities are under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Reis. The nature groups have found and classified more than 40 of the midsummer flowers growing in the vicinity of the camp. The map-making class, under the direction of Mrs. Hangar, has made maps of the camp by the method of compass bearings and measurement. Swimming and life-saving classes are under the care of Miss Helen Cooper. First aid instruction is given by the camp nurse, Miss Helen Wilson.

Overnight hikes to nearby beauty spots, as well as occasional "breakfast hikes", are features that are very much enjoyed.

Parents and friends of girls in camp will be welcome visitors Sunday. Their visits during the week, however, interrupt the scheduled program of camp activities.

The Diary of a New Yorker
by CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The airplane is having a notable effect on New York skyscraper architecture. Designers of big buildings, mindful that from now on such structures will be viewed from new angles by air travelers, are taking another dimension into consideration and drawing plans.

More attention is being paid to color. This note isn't new, for the American Raditor building, with its impressive black and gold stripings, gave other architects ideas; but the terra cotta people are working overtime now, meeting the demand for bright colors for skyscrapers.

Half a dozen tall structures in the metropolis have aerial beacons, and the possibility of future use of roofs for landings is being considered by the architects in the designs for all towers of commerce.

Most of New York's busiest corners, which without a doubt are the busiest in the world, are not in the so-called downtown district, but in outlying sections. For instance, Broadway and Ninety-sixth street.

More than 4,000 vehicles pass there between five and six p. m. on an average.

A large subway station is located there, and it is a stop on a municipal bus route, so that probably a total of 100,000 to 150,000 persons mingle in the traffic at that point in the hour.

Gene Tunney's much publicized knowledge of Shakespearean drama isn't the "bunk", as many suspect. A friend of mine was present at a luncheon given for the champion a few days after his retirement from the ring was announced, and on being presented to the fighter recited a Shakespearean quotation he considered appropriate to the occasion. Incidentally, the lines were about the only ones by the Bard of Avon my friend knew.

Tunney smiled, said, "That's from 'The Tempest'," and continued the quotation for 10 or 15 additional lines.

John D. Rockefeller Sr. is one of the pillars of the Baptist church, but one of his closest friends is the Rev. Father Patrick J. Lennon, rector of St. Cecelia's Roman Catholic in 105th street. He is often a Rockefeller guest. Well, Father Lennon has never asked a contribution from Mr. Rockefeller, who is the largest contributor to church funds and philanthropic organizations in the world; and he doesn't want one.

"I don't believe in a church looking to a rich man to bear its expenses. I've seen a good many of these churches built by rich men, memorial churches for instance. The people don't care for them. They don't feel that the church belongs to them. I don't mean that the rich man shouldn't give something, but only his part."

Father Lennon says he and Mr. Rockefeller never discuss religion.

Of all the heartless rackets practiced in New York on the unwary, the most brutal, it seems to me, is one aimed at jobless persons. Agencies or concerns insert fake help wanted advertisements in newspapers to attract unemployed men and women to an office where they are asked to put up bond money, or make a deposit on a uniform or to buy goods which is to be resold "at a profit." In most cases the applicant is deceived and victimized.

Newspapers make every effort to eliminate such advertising, but find it difficult to prevent it.

Widows forced to seek work in middle age are particular prey of the racketeers, who frequently obtain the insurance nest egg of a newly bereaved wife who believes she is securing herself against want by becoming a "specialty saleswoman" or an investor in a "tea room".

A Halo of Loveliness
By Edna Wallace Hopper

The most flattering frame for your face is your hair. It is up to you to bring out the healthy glint and the caressing softness that blends with your features.

Thin Underweight Men and Women Can Quickly Gain Needed Flesh

One Very Thin Man Gained 28 Pounds in Eight Weeks

Tens of thousands of exceedingly thin, yes, scrawny men and women have taken McCoy's Tablets and put on pounds of good firm flesh.

Not only will McCoy's increase weight, but taken regularly will cause frail rundown men and women to grow stronger and more energetic.

If the millions of skinny, scrawny men and women in America will start today and put their faith in McCoy's it is safe to say that at least 90 per cent. of them will gain weight, health and attractiveness in a few weeks.

So why not start today? Why not fill out those deep hollows in neck, cheeks, and chest? Why go on through life with sunken cheeks and narrow chest when you can take advantage of this straight forward offer.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at any drug store in America.

Three Arrested, Crippled Man Is Robbery Victim

(International News Service)

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Aug. 16.—One man was in jail and two others were under $1,500 bail each Wednesday, following their arrest on charges of robbing a one-legged man and taking $62 from the socket of his artificial limb.

Stephen Percoski was in jail while Michael and Thomas Wrobel, all of this city, were out on bail. They were arrested shortly after Simon Churck, a watchman at the Kathryan Colliery near here, was found helpless along a road. He reported to police that the trio had robbed him.

Bebe Daniels Makes Quick Trip To East

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Bebe Daniels, motion picture star, is in New York after an almost continuous flight from Los Angeles to Hadley Field, which she accomplished in less than thirty-six hours. The flight was successful but fatiguing, and immediately afterward Miss Daniels lost her purse containing $168 and personal trinkets. This was left in a taxicab in which she drove from the flying field with Thomas Meighan and Lawrence Wheat. The purse was turned in to the police by Teddy Forman, the taxicab driver.

Embezzlement Is Charge Against Greensburg Man

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 16.—John E. Tracy, 50, prominent club man and school director of Greensburg, was Wednesday formally charged with embezzlement, larceny and conversion, following informations drawn up by District Attorney John R. Keister here.

According to the District Attorney between $52,000 and $70,000 was involved in a series of transactions in which Tracy accepted money to place for investment, but which he himself retained. Other developments concerning collection of rents and collection of insurance premiums are pending, Keister indicated.

Tracy for many years was in the insurance and real estate business. County detectives had not located him late Wednesday.

DuPont Employes Directed To Vote As They See Fit

Lammont DuPont, President Of Powder Mills, Says Company Not In Politics

(International News Service)

WILMINGTON Del. Aug. 16—Du Pont employes today were officially warned that the company was not in politics. The statement was issued by Lammont Du Pont president of the E. I. Du Pont De Nemours and Co. Inc.

The statement followed the publicity given the actions of Pierre S. Du Pont, chairman of the board of directors and John J. Raskob vice president and member of the board in supporting Governor Al Smith for the presidency.

"Employes are expected to vote as their judgment dictates" read the statement "but their preference does not indicate a company attitude."

While he was driving north on North Liberty street, D. L. Westlake of Pittsburgh, reports that a car bearing Pennsylvania license 567-377 hit his machine at the Madison avenue intersection Wednesday evening.

Andrew Johnson, of 15 Front street, while driving east on West Washington street, Wednesday afternoon, was hit by a machine bearing Pennsylvania license 994-992 at the Smithfield street intersection.

A broken steering knuckle caused his truck to crash into an electric light pole on East Washington street, near Ray street at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, is the report of James B. McCoy of 1208 Huron avenue.

J. W. Pearson of 412 Moody avenue, reports that while he was driving north on North Jefferson street, Wednesday evening, near the Grant street intersection, he bumped into a machine, failing to get the license number. Small damage was done to Mr. Pearson's machine.

Men On Disabled Plane Picked Up

American Tanker Picks Up Four From Sea In Teeth Of Gale

(International News Service)

KEY WEST, Fla., Aug. 16. — The American tanker Legionnaire picked up four men from the disabled airplane General Machado last night between Key West and Havana in the teeth of a howling gale, according to radio advices received here, but whether all were rescued alive remained in doubt early today.

The four men aboard the plane were Robert H. Fatt, pilot, Angel Alfonson, mechanic; Luther Ritz, radio expert who was trying out a wireless telephone installed on the plane this week; and C. Norman Ageton, of Flushing, N. Y.

According to a radio message relayed from the tanker to the naval radio station here by the coast guard cutter Saukee, all of the plane's personnel were saved. However, a later message, received early today at the coast guard station at St. Petersburg, stated that Ageton had been killed.

Coke Production Shows Increase

Coke Region Displays Evidence Of Emerging From Mid-Summer Slump

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 16.—The Connellsville region gave further evidence during the week ending August 11 of recovery from the mid-summer slump in the coke industry, the International News Service survey revealed today. There was an increase of 700 tons, the second successive weekly gain. This brought the total production for the region up to 29,730 tons for the week.

Merchant operators reported gains of 600 tons and furnace 100 tons. Sixty-two ovens were fired at merchant plants.

The price for spot furnace remained firm at $2.75, with the possibility that even fair demand would boost it above that figure.

WAS WONDERFUL FOR RELIEVING AWFUL NEURITIS

Lady Astonished At Way Ten Herbs Helped Her; Indigestion Gone.

"Ten Herbs gave me wonderful relief from terrible neuritis in my shoulder, and stomach trouble," was the statement of Mrs. Carrie Dreamer, 119 Scott Avenue, Washington, Pa., according to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating this celebrated new natural medicine.

"I used to have neuritis in my left shoulder so bad I could not sleep, and at times I could do no work," Mrs. Dreamer continued. "I was continually troubled with indigestion. Food would sour on my stomach and cause a dreadful burning sensation. Gas would press against my heart and make me short of breath. These troubles caused me to become very nervous, and at times I had severe headaches. I cannot begin to tell how many different kinds of medicines I used, without getting satisfactory results.

"I learned what a wonderful preparation Ten Herbs is from a neighbor, who had used your medicine for stomach and bowel trouble and was greatly benefited. After hearing her story, I started using Ten Herbs. I was astonished at the results two bottles gave. That awful neuritis has left my shoulder, and indigestion has been relieved. I can eat anything now without having sourness, gas, bloating, pressure against my heart, or shortness of breath, and am feeling like I used to. I gladly recommend Ten Herbs to anyone suffering with neuritis or stomach trouble."

Ten Herbs is a rare liquid combination of herbs, roots, barks and leaves scientifically compounded. It is first aid to Nature in bringing back health to tired, suffering, worn-out men and women by benefiting stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and cleansing the entire system.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Ahepans Will Go To Michigan Event

New Castle Ahepans will be included with those who will go to Yipsilanti, Mich., on August 29 to witness the unveiling of a statue of General Demetrius Ypsilanti as a part of the program for the Ahepans' national conclave, which convenes in Detroit soon.

It is expected that 10 or more members of the local organization will attend the convention, and as most all of the delegates will witness the statue ceremony, it is expected that 2,000 members of the order will be present.

Other plans have been made for a complete program after the unveiling of the statue, which is expected to arrive in New York soon. A famed Greek sculptor created the statue.

NEW MILLER Deluxe

the Tire that Took all Akron by Storm

HERE is the new-type tire that in one month established a new sales record in the city of Akron—the toughest tire market in the whole world.

The story of how Miller did it—is a story that should influence every thinking car owner in this city. Here it is—as it actually happened.

Miller introduced in the city of Akron a remarkable new tire. A tire new in design, new in appearance, new in materials, the finest tire in fact that skill, experience and manufacturing resources could produce. We honestly believe it is the finest tire anyone has ever produced—bar none.

It was expected that this great new tire would create interest even in Akron. For it embodies ideas in tire making never before equalled.

The response was immediate and overwhelming. Nothing like it had ever been seen in Akron before.

On the day following the announcement, one Akron dealer sold 64 of these tires. By the end of the first month Akron dealers had sold hundreds. In fact Akron, the most critical tire market in the world, absorbed many tires which we had expected to ship elsewhere. And the demand has continued unabated.

Why?

Because there has never been a tire like it. Because it fills a need that has long been felt by thousands for a tire you need not be afraid to drive and abuse, if necessary.

50% Thicker Tread
60% Greater Carcass Strength

The tread has been built thicker—more massive—to resist the grinding wear of faster driving and quicker stopping. The new tread design grips and holds on wet, slippery road surfaces, and is cut extra deep to give thousands of miles more traction.

And beneath this heavy tread is a carcass of amazing new strength with a double thick layer of pure gum between the plies.

With this tire on your car—you need not worry about punctures, blowouts or road delays. You will probably never puncture it from ordinary causes. And you buy it knowing that it will last as long as you are likely to keep your car.

Tested—Abused—Proved

The Deluxe Balloon has been through the hardest tests ever given a tire. It has withstood every test of rough roads, high speeds, continuous driving and high temperatures.

Naturally, this tire is somewhat higher priced than regular lines. It's worth every cent you pay for it—and more. Ask the Miller Dealer to show it to you. Compare it. Judge, for yourself, the merits of this tire that has won the hardest tire market in the world.

Dana Golfers Win Tourney

Testimonial Tournament Takes Place At Field Club Wednesday

PLANES MANEUVER OVER GOLF COURSE

Testimonial tournament Wednesday afternoon at the course of the New Castle Field Club was an unusually successful affair and resulted in the presence of many of the well known golfers of the club participating.

As previously announced it was a contest for supremacy between the "Hookers" captained by Dr. Samuel W. Perry and the "Slicers" captained by Dick Dana.

The "Slicers" won, perhaps because of the fact that Captain Dick Dana continued going over the top in spite of the efforts of Robert C. Love and Captain Smith in the former's new plane, to disconcert him and make him miss some of his difficult strokes at Hole No. 10. The planes of Mr. Love and Messrs Gallagher and Grey maneuvered over the playing field during the late afternoon adding interest to the affair, which was held in honor of A. C. Hoyt and T. F. Morehead.

Dr. Perry was busy all the time giving encouragement to his team. The final score was 37½ to 34½ in favor of the "Slicers," captained by Dana.

As a result of this victory, Captain Dana stands pledged to give all the members of the club an automobile ride.

The losing Hooker team consisted of W. M. Nunn, M. A. McClure, B. N. Kannenberg, G. D. Morris, Dr. L. W. Grossman, Dr. W. D. Cleland, L. W. Kyle, W. S. Reynolds, D. H. Long, Dr. C. E. Trainor, J. E. The winning Slicers team consisted of M. K. Gilliland, H. E. Lampe, R. M. Strickler, James P. Cope, Dr. F. E. Eakin, Dr. C. F. McDowell, C. L. Shira, C. H. Young, R. P. Dunn, Dr. J. G. McConaghy, H. Army Major Loses Life When Train Strikes Machine

Major J. D. Russ Is Killed And Lieutenant Butcher Is Seriously Injured

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Aug. 16.—Major J. D. Russ, U. S. Army, was killed and his companion, Lieut. Col. Edmund Butcher, was severely injured when their automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania railroad milk train at Oxford, near here today.

The men were reported bound from Washington to Philadelphia in a car bearing a Georgia license when they drove squarely in front of the train, witnesses said. The car was hurled fifty feet away completely wrecked. Major Russ's body was found in the debris while Colonel Butcher who was driving was hurled from the car sustaining cuts and bruises.

Witnesses said the warning signal light at the crossing was operating but apparently the men attempted to beat the train.

Boy And Girl Plan To Dodge Sleep For Year While Getting Concentrated College Education

John and Garnet Hall

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va., Aug. 16.—How much sleep does youth need?

"A great deal," say the old folks.

"None at all—or at least, not much", answer John and Garnet Hall, of here, and they plan to prove it. That is, they intend to show that less than five hours a day is plenty long enough for any boy or girl to snooze.

John, age 19, and his sister, Garnet, age 16, plan soon to enter college, studying alternately an hour and sleeping 15 minutes for the full 24 hours of the day. At this rate of study they believe they can cover and absorb a full four-year course in one.

The Hall plan would give the pair four hours and 48 minutes of complete rest daily, and 19 hours and 12 minutes in which to study.

They are certain they can "hold up," pointing to their recent record, made in a dance marathon at Wheeling, in which they claim they danced continuously for 27 days, or 650 hours. They actually gained five pounds, according to their parents.

Dr. F. R. Dew, Belmont county district health commissioner, is quoted as warning the pair not to extend their sleepless careers too long. Dr. Dew sees little harm in abbreviated sleeping for a time, but if prolonged to five years or more would bring premature old age.

Big Financial Transaction Will Occur September 15

Nearly Two And Half Billion Dollars Will Figure In Turn Over

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—One of the biggest single day's financial transactions that has taken place since the World war will be staged by the treasury department on September 15, with nearly $2,500,000,000 involved.

The gigantic money turn-over, officials said today, will include retirement of about $1,000,000,000 of the 3rd Liberty Bond issue, a new security issue of well over a half billion, income and corporation tax collections of about $440,000,000 and other incidental receipts and expenditures.

Arrangements for the new bonds, to be used either for exchange for the Thirds or to provide funds to meet the retirement will await the return of Secretary Mellon, who is on his way back from Europe, and Undersecretary Ogden L. Mills, vacationing in New York. Two or more issues of different maturity dates are anticipated.

The September installment of the income and corporation tax is estimated by treasury experts at about the same as last September, when $446,000,000 was collected.

Another large financial operation will take place December 15, reaching close to $2,000,000,000. Government expenditures on that date will approximate $850,000,000, chiefly as the result of the maturity of three short-term security issues.

Income tax collections in December will amount to about $425,000,000, according to indications. Heavy issues of bonds are anticipated at that time to meet the securities to be paid off.

December 15 the government will receive $97,000,000 as interest on the war debts, the principal portion of which comes from Great Britain.

Judging from government financial statistics up to the middle of August there is no probability of a downward revision of taxes at the winter session of congress. Officials admitted that the government will do well to "break even" for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929.

Receipts so far this fiscal year were $233,269,000, less by $21,000,000 than for the same period last year. Internal revenue miscellaneous collections and customs receipts fell heavily. Income and corporation taxes were off about $4,000,000, indicating that total collections for the fiscal year will amount to about $2,100,000,000.

Ordinary expenditures amounting to $344,285,000 exceeded last year by $34,000,000, giving Uncle Sam a deficit of $191,500 up to August 15.

Pastor Missing, Search Starts

Minister Under $3,000 Bail On Serious Charge Is Strangely Missing

DISAPPEARS AFTER PARKING AUTOMOBILE

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 16.—The Rev. Charles E. Driver, 36, pastor of the Louis Street Non-Denominational church of Paterson, N. J., has been missing from the home of his sister, Mrs. Kenneth Fulton, of Linden, near here, since Saturday, August 4, it was learned here today.

The minister and his wife had been visiting friends in this city since July 28, when he went to Linden. The Rev. Mr. Driver, who was at Liberty under $3,000 bail in connection with serious charges involving his fifteen-year-old daughter, left his automobile at Linden and disappeared the day he arrived there, according to reports received here.

Paterson authorities wired the Williamsport police, asking them to search for the missing pastor, but thus far no trace of him has been found and relatives here and at Linden claim they have no knowledge of his whereabouts.

To Have Display Of Work Done At Local Playgrounds

On Friday and Saturday of this week, there will be in the windows of the New Castle Dry Goods Company, a display of the industrial work done during the past summer at the playgrounds of the city under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Mackey, industrial work supervisor of the playgrounds.

The display will include all kinds of handcraft made by the children of the playgrounds, including dolls, dresses, baskets, bathing bags and numerous other useful and ornamental articles. The work done this year is exceptionally good and the display is for the purpose of showing the parents of the city just what may be accomplished in the playgrounds under organized supervision.

Supreme Court Reviews Rates Battle Today

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug 16.—The supreme court, today has before it four cases dealing with "lake cargo coal rates," over which the coal interests of Western Pennsylvania, Northern West Virginia and Eastern Ohio are aligned against coal business from Southern West Virginia, Eastern Kentucky, Eastern Tennessee and Western Virginia in a railroad freight rate battle.

The supreme court will decide on four appeals entered by the northern interests against a decision of a statutory court at Charleston, W. Va., enjoining the Interstate Commerce Commission from interfering with twenty-cent-per-ton reduction granted to southern coal interests by southern railroads—the Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western and Louisville & Nashville included.

The southern railroads granted their rate reduction after the commission had refused to rescind an order reducing freight rates on coal from the bituminous center of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Northern West Virginia. The commission then ordered the southern reduction not to go into effect. The Charleston court enjoined the commission from action.

San Diego Fliers In Celebration Of Twenty-Fifth Year

Lindbergh Field Will Be Dedicated As Part Of Silver Anniversary Today

(International News Service)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 16. — The silver anniversary of man's conquest of the air will be celebrated here today by the greatest aerial armada in the history of aviation.

Four hundred army and navy airplanes, including every type of Uncle Sam's war eagles, will take to the air and swoop in massed review in the largest aggregation of flying machines ever assembled in the skies.

The gigantic spectacle not only will commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first successful flight of a heavier than air flying machine, but also will mark the dedication of Lindbergh Field, San Diego's first municipal airport.

Siamese Twins Return To Home

Believe Publicity Stunt, Separating Of Mary And Margaret Gibbs

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Grinning happily Mary and Margaret Gibbs, the Holyoke, Mass., Siamese twins, left the Park West hospital Wednesday still united, despite the promise of their physician, Dr. Francis P Weston, that he would perform an operation to separate them.

Hospital attaches believe that they were starting at once for their home in Massachusetts.

Dr. Harold Hays, director and owner of the hospital, who has censured Dr. Weston for the notoriety attached to the case, said:

"It's 500 to 1 this was all a publicity stunt. It looks to me as though there never was any definite decision to have an operation. I think there will be no operation at all."

Delay Completion Of Mercer School

New Building In Hempfield Township Scheduled To Be Finished October 15

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 16.—The $50,000 school building being erected in Hempfield township at the present time for the accommodation of the 350 grade students of the district will not be completed for use of the students until Octiber 15th it is announced today.

The building will be used as a union school for all the grade pupils of the township. The building is one of three new school buildings being erected in Mercer county this summer for immediate use.

At Grove City is being erected a grade school that will cost about the same sum being rushed to completion.

The erection of a gymnasium and auditorium in Mercer will not be started until in September. Bids are not to be in until the date of August 31st.

ROMANCE THROUGH MAIL FAILS

"He cost me the price of a two-cent stamp and, believe me, he's not worth it," opines Nellie Wallace Sleet, 22, of Tchula, Miss., who came to El Paso, Tex., to marry Joe Sleet, 33, church deacon, after a correspondence courtship. Now, two months later, they have separated and both are suing for divorce. Sleet, in his divorce petition, declares that his mail order bride refused to cook his meals.

Grove City Faculty Gets New Teachers

Three New Instructors Are Appointed To College Faculty

GROVE CITY, Pa., Aug. 16.—Three positions on the faculty of Grove City College have been filled according to announcement of college officials today. The new instructors are Miss Florence Sandford, department of Public Speaking. Dr. Claude A. Buss, department of Political Science and History, and Miss Katherine Anderson, departments of English and Education.

Two of the new appointments were made to fill vacancies while the third is a new position. Miss Sandford was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Katherine Griffin, who had been in charge of the department of Public Speaking in the college for the last 15 years. Miss Griffin has accepted a position in Eastern Pennsylvania. During the past summer she has been teaching at Roanoke, Va.

Dr. Claude A. Buss was elected to fill the vacancy due to the resignation of Prof. M. M. Grimes. During the past year Dr. Buss has been in the Carnegie Teaching Fellow in International Law, in France. He had taken his doctor's degree at the University of Pennsylvania and previous to going to France was an instructor in that institution. He is a graduate of Susquehanna University.

Miss Sandford is a graduate of Knox College, Illinois, and had taken her master's degree at the American Conservatory, in Chicago. She was formerly in charge of public speaking work at Hanover College, in Indiana.

Miss Katherine Anderson is a graduate of Grove City College where she received her master's degree this year. With the appointment of these instructors the faculty of Grove City College is complete for the coming year.

Grove City Legion To Send Delegates

About Nine Car Loads To Attend Annual Convention At Uniontown

GROVE CITY, Pa., Aug. 16.—The Grove City American Legion Post will send a large delegation to the state convention which will be held at Uniontown, August 23, 24 and 25. It is expected that about nine automobile loads of Legionnaires will make the trip to Uniontown.

Norman Patterson, owner of the Grove City-New Castle bus line, is planning to send a bus loaded with members of the local post to the convention.

The regularly elected representatives of the post are Clarence Moon, commander of the Grove City Post; Ellis F. Robinson, adjutant, and Harlan Surrena. About 100 drum and bugle corps will take part in the mammoth parade held during the convention and compete for first place in the state. The Grove City Drum and Bugle Corps will not take part in this demonstration but members of the organization are planning to be present to take notes for the betterment of the local musical organization.

Mercer Teachers Make Good Grades

Few Failures Are Reported For Some 250 Who Attended Summer School

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 16.—Mercer county school teachers that attended the college and normal summer sessions made an exceptional academic record for themselves it is reported here today at the office of the county superintendent of schools.

They numbered 250 teachers, it is said.

At Slippery Rock State Normal there was not a failure reported of a Mercer county teacher. The record at Edinboro was almost as good.

The teachers attend summer school to obtain an advanced rating which is required under the terms of the Pennsylvania school code.

The work of the teachers is inspected by the county and state educators and must be passed on as satisfactory.

The great American tragedy of today is the tragedy of Mother Hubbard. Nothing there when we examine the cupboard of our inner lives.—Prof. Halford E. Luccock.

Zeigler-Hazen Wedding Event

Well Known Couple United In Marriage On Wednesday At Bride's Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 16.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hazen in Fombell, before a beautiful bank of ferns and flowers, a very pretty wedding was celebrated Wednesday when their eldest daughter, Rebecca Grace, was united in marriage to Lawrence W. Zeigler of Franklin township.

Rev. J. R. Routledge of the Providence Baptist church conducted the ceremony, using the ring ritual.

Mrs. Raymond Hazen of Wurtemburg Heights played wedding selections on the piano before the bride and groom with their attendants appeared.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin, the corsage, sleeves and deep flounce being of duchess lace trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestone dewdrops. She wore a coronet wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Her maid of honor was Miss Marie Renner of Beaver who wore a pretty dress of silver grey with white trimming, a silver head dress and slippers.

Her flowers were pink and white asters and maiden fern.

Ezra Hazen, brother of the bride, acted as best man. After the ceremony a bountiful wedding dinner was served, covers being laid for 30 guests, being only members of the immediate families and Rev. and Mrs. Routledge.

A huge wedding cake centered the bride's table, which was also decorated with candle holders and pink candles.

Mr. and Mrs Zeigler left for a trip by motor to include Detroit, Gary, Ind., and other places of interest, to return in about two weeks. Both the young people are well known and popular in the community, both are school teachers and members of highly respected families, Mrs. Zeigler being the principal of the North Star school and leader of the Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Annie Logue Dies On Wednesday At Daughter's Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 16. — Mrs. Annie Logue, aged 78, passed away Wednesday evening at the home of her daughter Mrs. John Sarver of 417 Franklin avenue after a short illness.

The body is being sent to the home of a grandson, Tapley Garnes of Dunbar, West Virginia, where funeral services will be conducted. The deceased leaves three sons, Arthur of Pittsburgh, Virgil of Newell, W. Va., and A. A. Logue of this city, and a daughter Mrs. John Sarver, also of this city.

ENTERTAINING

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 16. — Mrs. Ralph Evans is entertaining at a bridge-luncheon Friday afternoon honoring Mrs. Ralph Adams, late of Appelton, Wis., and now a resident of Ellwood City.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 16.—Admitted Mrs. Mary Ross of Hillside avenue; Josephine Yanson, and discharged Dan Moses of this city.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

M. A. Bickett of Orchard avenue returned last evening from Erie where he enjoyed the annual outing of the New York Central lines. Over 12,000 attended the affair and in the track meet the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie branch of the New York Central took second place, a signal honor to the division.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hogle of Philadelphia were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Bell Wednesday evening. They left this morning by motor en route to their home.

Fred Long of Marshall, Mich., who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Rolland Haines of Fourth street, left this morning for Wilmington, Del., from where he will embark by boat for the west coast.

B. J. Bell of Glenn avenue left today for White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., for the balance of the week on business.

No More Piles

Thousands Bless Dr. Leonhardt, the Specialist Who Discovered This Common Sense Remedy

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it's because you haven't heard of the internal treatment known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named this prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere with money back guarantee. It is easy to take, and McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer

Dr. J. M. McQuilken To Preach Sunday In Third Church

Rev. J. M. McQuilken, D. D., pastor of the First United Presbyterian church at Carnegie, Pa. will preach next Sunday, August 19 at both the morning and evening services in the Third United Presbyterian church of this city.

Dr. McQuilken is one of the ablest and best known ministers in Western Pennsylvania. He assisted Rev. S. B. Copeland the pastor of the Third church in a series of special evangelistic services last winter, preaching each evening for a week. During that week over one hundred additions were received into the membership of the church.

It is expected that the church will be filled to overflowing at both services with members of the congregation and former friends of Dr. McQuilken.

Places $25 Fine On Man Accused Of Attacking Wife

Because he threatened his wife after he beat her, Tinsley Jordan, colored, of Bridge street, was fined $25 by Mayor William H. Gillespie in morning police court.

When Officers Lynch and Longstreth arrived at his home in answer to complaints made by neighbors, they found Jordan on the rear porch brandishing a .32 caliber automatic pistol, and telling all and sundry that he would use it on his wife. He was taken to the police department, and locked up, pending his appearance in police court this morning.

Miss Margaret McGrath was an Ellwood City visitor yesterday.

Police Officer Rescues Man

Although Officer Tommie Lynch saved his life Wednesday afternoon when he was trying to board a freight train, yet John Klusch does not feel particularly grateful to the police department, for this morning at police court Mayor William H. Gillespie fined the man five dollars for being drunk.

Officers Lynch and Longstreth were answering another call to Bridge street when they saw the man trying to crawl on a slowly moving freight. Two or three times he tried, and each time he missed. Officer Lynch grabbed him, just as he was being swung under the wheels, brought him to the police car, and took him to the jail, where he would have a chance to sober up.

Boys Are Fined For Taking Milk

The two young men had been swimming out at Hill's beach. Coming home they conceived the idea that they were thirsty. A bottle of milk sitting on a porch near the corner of Spruce and Chestnut streets gave them another idea.

All of which goes to explain the presence of Riley Campbell and Clark Davis in the mayor's class at police court this morning. While it is not a grave offense, stated the mayor, yet stealing milk will do much seriously to inconvenience the families from which it is stolen. Now the two young men are digging deep—digging up $10 apiece to pay the fine assessed from them.

Chicken Thief Goes To Prison

Steve Buchowski who recently pleaded guilty to the theft of chickens in the vicinity of Neshannock Falls and was sentenced to the Western penitentiary was taken to that institution on Wednesday, August 15, by Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Musser. Thomas Stone was also taken to the hospital at Dixmont at the same time.

British Engineer Is Sought In Jungles; Lost Three Years

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—Lost three years in the mysterious Matto Grosso jungle of interior Brazil, P. H. Fawcett, daring British engineer, is today the victim of a search for a lost civilization.

Belief that Fawcett is dead and that a rescue expedition headed by Commander George M. Fyott will prove fruitless was expressed by Prof. George M. McBride, associate professor of geography, University of California at Los Angeles, and close follower of Fawcett's expedition.

The dramatic attempt to reach an ancient city somewhere in the tangled fastnesses of the great jungle was sketched by McBride today.

"Fawcett, who was last heard from May 20, 1925, heard rumors among the natives during a previous trip to the interior of Brazil that a large and populous city existed somewhere in the jungle in a location never before visited by white men," McBride said.

"After the war, with a party of three, Fawcett set out to find this place.

"The explorer went almost unarmed, depending on flashlights to awe the natives. He was resourceful and experienced, besides being a good fighter."

Think of wicked gangsters collecting tribute to let people alone! Why, nobody has a right to do that except policemen.

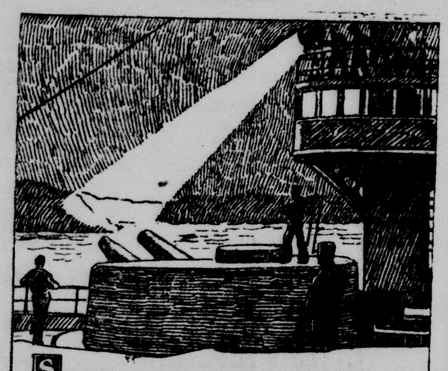
The Story Of Our War With Spain
Sampson At Santiago

ON THE FIRST OF JUNE, 1898, ACTING ADMIRAL SAMPSON ARRIVED OFF SANTIACO DE CUBA AND TOOK COMMAND OF THE UNITED STATES FLEET, WHICH HAD BLOCKADED THE SPANISH SQUADRON OF ADMIRAL CERVERA IN THE HARBOR.



SAMPSON POSTED HIS SHIPS CLOSE INSHORE SO THAT THE ENEMY COULD NOT SLIP OUT UNOBSERVED. BY NIGHT THE BEAMS OF POWERFUL SEARCHLIGHTS WERE TRAINED ON THE NARROW ENTRANCE, AND NO MOVEMENT ASHORE ESCAPED THE WATCHFUL EYES OF THE LOOKOUTS ON THE FLEET.

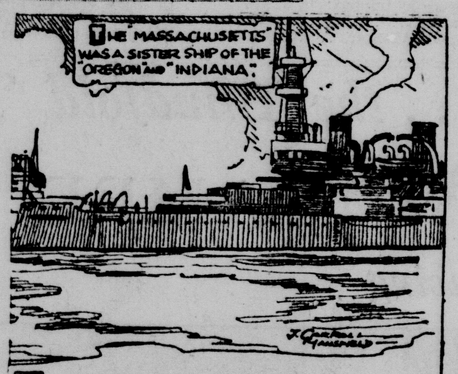
THE JUNCTION OF SAMPSON'S AND SCHLEY'S SQUADRONS MADE A FORMIDABLE ARRAY OF NAVAL STRENGTH BEFORE SANTIAGO. OUR FLEET INCLUDED THE FIRST-CLASS BATTLESHIPS "OREGON", "MASSACHUSETTS", "IOWA" (AND LATER THE "INDIANA"), THE SECOND-CLASS BATTLESHIP "TEXAS" AND THE TWO POWERFUL CRUISERS "NEW YORK" AND "BROOKLYN".



A PAIR OF SMALLER CRUISERS, AN ARMED YACHT, A COUPLE OF TORPEDO BOATS AND SEVERAL SUPPLY SHIPS MADE UP THE REST OF THE FLEET.

Risko Loses To Roberti On Foul In Sixth Round

Johnny Risko, Cleveland Baker Boy, Beats Roberti Until Foul Occurs

RISKO IS STILL IN TOURNAMENT

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Strange things, these heavyweight eliminations. They never eliminate anybody, even a guy who can't fight.

Therefore, it wasn't surprising that this couple-of-Roberts fellow, otherwise Roberto Roberti, still was in the tournament today. It doesn't matter that he didn't belong in there in the first place. He got in last night, and now, of course, he stays in. The reason they call them elimination tournaments is that once upon a time all of the contestants failed to survive, one of them dying of old age.

Risko Hits Low

All of which has almost nothing to do with the fact that Robert the Robert won on a foul from Johnny Risko in the sixth round last night. It was a palpable foul, though unintended, and Referee McAvoy had no alternative but to declare the loser the winner, if you follow my discourse. Roberto was accepting a great slaughtering until John went home with that left hook down below.

Risko, of course, remains in the tournament. He was only a technical loser last night. This guy Risko is beginning to grow up on me like a neglected wart.

The last time he bowed himself in around here he staked George Godfrey to about 45 pounds in weight, with other concessions in proportion, and then "bulled" him out of the play. Some didn't like that decision, but the writer found he could cast no sympathy on a man who allowed a much smaller opponent to even act as though he was winning.

Roberti Is Heaviest

John gave Roberto 34 pounds last night and did much the same with him that he had done with Godfrey, to-wit, he led to him constantly with long, swinging punches. It didn't make any difference that only some of them landed. Roberto did almost no leading at all, and, when you do that you lose 101 times out of a possible 100.

The boys in the front pew thought they noted some improvement in Roberto's technique, and the chances are that they were right. The gentleman simply couldn't have stayed as bad as he was before, or else they would have had to throw him away.

Risko Aggressive

He came into the ring with a plaster over his left eye. This was deep stuff. John knocked the thing off, only to discover that the organ was quite undamaged. This scurvey trick so enraged John that he gave the young man a plaster over, under and on both eyes for the rest of the evening.

Roberto did right well in the opening round, at that, almost holding John even with left hands. In the second he actually took the pace, stabbing his long left to the head, hooking the punch into the rotunda, and finally cutting John's mouth with a right cross.

Then John went to work. He rushed the Italian all over the ring, landing often with long left swings and getting home with lefts and rights to the body. Roberto came nicely in the middle of the round with straight lefts and a right to the head, but Risko's rushing had him breaking ground all the way and the end of the round saw him in obvious distress.

Risko Wins Fourth Round

The fourth went to John by a large plurality. He even staggered the Robert with a straight left to the mouth, and then went on bashing him almost without a surcease, which is one of the worst things to be without. The Robert finally flashed out with a right that clipped John's visage and did him a lot of good in a very academic sense, if any. However, this was about the only demurrer entered by the Robert during the round.

The fifth was much the same. So was the sixth, or what there was of it.

Roberto had every advantage save one. But there is none so important as the one he lacked. Weight and punching ability merited.

The punch that ended it simply was one of those things. You aim it one place; it lands another. As is usually the case, the man fouled didn't appear to be hurt as badly as he evidently wished to indicate. However, that is beside the point.

He was hit low and that usually settles the matter. It did last night.

Western Tennis Stars Favored In Tournament

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—With William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter out of the eastern lineup the tennis stars of the west are conceded to have an excellent chance of winning the annual east-west tournament which starts ta Forest Hills tomorrow. The officials conducting the tournament rejected a last minute appeal to invite Tilden to participate on the ground that it would be "unsportsmanlike to use a player against whom charges are pending." They referred to the Davis cup captain's alleged infraction of the player-writer rule.

As a gesture of loyalty to his friend, Hunter declined to play in the tournament.

The two veterans suffered unexpected defeats yesterday in the eastrn turf court championship.

At Rye, N. Y. Tilden lost to a player outside the first ten for the first time since 1920 when he was beaten by the youthful Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa., 6-4, 6-3. Another youngster, Berkeley Bell of Texas, eliminated Hunter by a score of 6-4, 7-5.

The most irrational fantasies often become the most lasting. Two such examples are what are commonly called a pair of trousers and a top hat.—G. K. Cheston.

Improvements Made At Franklin Field

By "BUGS" WALTHER

When Mr. and Mrs. Football Fan attend the opening grid game at the Ben Franklin High stadium this year, they will find that many improvements have been made to the playing field, and entrances.

The chief improvement at the field will be the new entrances on Cunningham avenue. Superintendent of Buildings Ligo during the summer months had a force of workmen engaged in moving the fence back to the property line on Cunningham avenue thus giving the High School team a practice field and a playing field.

Heretofore the fence on the west side of the field has been just in back of the bleachers. In moving the fence out, it has created a new field and one that will be used by the team to practice on, and thus save the regular playing field and keep it in proper shape. The sod on the regular field is very fine at the present time, being favored by extremely good weather. The entire field was sowed with seed this spring.

Taking it all for all the New Castle Senior High football this fall will have one of the most magnificent playing fields in Western Pennsylvania. The football plant here is now complete with every modern detail.

Plan Field Fence

The Athletic association of Senior High has also another idea in mind, and there is every indication to believe that the purpose will be carried out, this is the erection of a five-foot fence entirely surrounding the playing field. The erection of such a fence would keep the field clear of spectators at all times, and will insure a much more orderly game.

There are several other minor improvements to be made to the field prior to the start of the season on Saturday September 22, when Bellevue High will help New Castle High with the lid lifting exercises.

Ralph H. Gardner the energetic faculty manager at Senior High is ever alert to give the team and the fans the most modern of improvements and consequently the locals have a playing field that compares with many of the smaller colleges in this part of the state.

Every team that came to New Castle last year remarked about the splendid playing field and the facilities for handling a big crowd, and they were more than willing to schedule New Castle High at any time. In regard to the treatment and sportsmanship of the New Castle team and fans it was gilt edged.

Bankers Topple Gas Company 9-6

The New Castle Bankers baseball team downed the Gas Company team 9 to 6 in a game played at the New Castle Radiator field on Wednesday night.

McGill on the hill for the Bankers hurled a gilt-edged game, giving but nine hits and having seven strikeouts. The Gas Company used Yoho on the mound and he pitched a steady game.

The batting of Toby Fernati featured the game. This youngster hammering out four hits, including two home runs and a triple. Fernati's first homer came in the initial inning and his second circuit clout came in the third frame. Goodwin and Hamil were the best hitters for the losers.

PARALYZER IS COMING TO TOWN

Johnny Datto May Have Lots Of Trouble With U. S. Carpentier

Johnny Datto, Filipino paralyzer, and U. S. Carpentier, the best featherweight in the Pittsburgh-Cleveland-Youngstown district are scheduled to battle ten rounds Monday night at Jolly Bowl and owing to the prominence of the fighters indications point to the largest crowd of the season witnessing the bout.

As a puncher, Datto in his class, ranks with the best punchers in the world and according to sport writers who have seen him he could lay out any of the heavyweights were he to nail them on the chin.

Carpentier is a decidedly smart boy who can punch and knowing that Datto is weak before a right uppercut, Jimmie Mason is drilling the U. S. boy to take advantage of the Filipino's alleged weakness and a big crowd will be on tap Monday to see the going.

Frankie Sunday, who is reputed to have outpointed Billy Wallace at Youngstown will clash with Frankie Rio, a boy who has never failed to put up a good bout here. In fact, Sunday and Rio fought a slashing six round fight here last winter.

A knockout can be expected when Jimmy Belmont and Johnny Hanlon meet in another six round bout as neither will give an inch. Young Harris and Jack McCarthy of Pittsburgh meet in the second preliminary. There will be one other bout.

Crowds from Ambridge, Aliquippa, Beaver Falls, New Brighton, Meadville, Butler, Ellwood and New Wilmington have ordered reservations.

Chicago Cubs Stop Giants

Giants' Winning Streak Is Halted By Cubs In Close Game, 6 To 5, In Windy City

YANKS-ATHLETICS BOTH LOSE AGAIN

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Beating the Chicago Cubs on their home grounds is almost as difficult as winning a bout with the Missus or a big league umpire. The New York Giants found that out yesterday when the McCarthy mob put on a three run rally in the ninth and pulled a 6 to 5 victory out of the fire. The defeat snapped the Giants' winning streak of five games and put them 3½ games behind the St. Louis Cardinals, who beat Boston.

Freddy Maguire, ex-Giant, drove in the winning run and Norman McMillan, substitute third baseman, walloped three hits including a home run.

Sunny Jim Bottomley is hitting and the Cardinals are winning again. Three hits by James, including his 26th homer, helped to a 7 to 3 win over the Braves.

Yanks-Athletics Lose.

New York and Philadelphia are pulling an Alphonse and Gaston act in the American League. Neither team, however, is taking advantage of the other's defeats. The White Sox bumped off the Yanks again, 8 to 4, but the Athletics folded up like a mouse trap and dropped another game to Detroit.

Miller Huggins put Dugan and Lazzeri back into the lineup but the Yanks couldn't make much headway against Red Faber, although Dugan hit for the circuit and G. H. Ruth collected his 45th homer. Faber and his battery mate, Crouse, led the attack on Pipgras and Johnson with home runs.

The Tigers stopped the A's winning 6 to 3.

Those three grand veterans, Vance, Petty and Harris, led Brooklyn to a 6 to 5 victory over Pittsburgh. Vance ran himself ragged in making three timely hits and Petty saved the game. Harris socked a homer and twice saved the game with a dazzling catch and a rifle throw.

Vance chalked up his straight win and his tenth victory in his last eleven starts.

A seven-run rally in the eighth enabled the Reds to swamp the Phils, 11 to 4.

The St. Louis Browns lost to Washington, 4 to 3. Cleveland whitewashed Boston, 7 to 0.

After all, the goatee was an economic failure. It never grew long enough to take the place of a necktie.

Panning Our Babe In Paris

By Feg Murray

A Parisian sports writer while admitting that our Bambino has the ability to knock out a staggering number of home runs and that he is the greatest box-office attraction in the national pastime, denies that Ruth is a vital part of the Yankee team or that he contributes a great share towards the winning of games. He says:

"Ruth has reached a point where he swings at the ball on a 'home-run-or-nothing' basis. While the Yankees were on their first western trip he made eight hits. Seven of them were homers. There seems to be something intentional in that. Even pitchers will admit with regret that Ruth could bat in the .400 figure if he wished to toy with singles, doubles and triples. Several years ago he did just that. Now however there are other Yankee batsmen who can handle that branch of the game leaving Ruth to his homer work. It is spectacular, gratifying to Ruth and to the fans. But it removes him from the real team work and since baseball is essentially a question of team work his importance as a strictly ball-playing member of the team is lessened materially."

Which inspires this writer to say "Apple sauce." Because the Babe is the greatest team player in his league and he is in there fighting every minute to win the game, cussing out the other players in a friendly fashion and cheering their efforts when successful. Besides being the greatest slugger in the history of the game he is a remarkable fielder and baserunner and he is still fast enough and good enough to be a regular outfielder on any team even if he didn't have his "remarkable color." and long-distance hitting ability.

The next day's issue of this Paris paper ironically enough carried the headline "Ruth's 37th Homer Wins Game."

'Frank Wykoff the famous 18-year-old California sprinter is the son of a plumber."—News item.

He certainly didn't get his speed from watching any plumber I ever saw at work.

Vance And Fussell Give Way To Petty And Dawson At Forbes Field

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16.—Brooklyn defeated Pittsburgh six to five in a hard-hitting contest yesterday afternoon at Forbes field. Vance started for Brooklyn and lasted 7 2-3 innings during which he was hit 11 times. Petty took over his duties and gave only one safe blow in 1 1-3 innings. Fussell was hit eight times for five runs in four innings and Dawson allowed three hits and one earned run in five innings. Mack Hillis played second as Bartell turned an ankle and did not get into the game. Hillis turned in one of the two home runs. Harris got the other. The box score:

Falls 150 Feet Into Quarry Pit

SUNBURY, Pa., Aug. 16.—William Andrews is recovering from a sprained ankle following a fall of 150 feet when the scaffold on which he was seated broke and he plunged to the bottom of the Dalmatia Quarry company's pit.

Adams fell downward when the scaffold broke and landed feet first.

SMALL FIRE IN DEWEY AVE. HOME

Children playing with matches in the basement of the home of G. H. Crowe of 1016 Dewey avenue caused number 3 fire company to respond to an alarm at 2:45 Wednesday afternoon.

When the company arrived at the scene of the fire it was almost extinguished. No loss was sustained.

Firemen Parade At Myersdale

Western Pennsylvania Fire Companies In Convention; East Pittsburgh Gets 1929 Meet

(International News Service)

MEYERSDALE, Pa., Aug. 16.—With approximately 75 fire companies and 40 bands and drum corps in the line of march, a gala parade this afternoon was to be the most colorful part of the convention here of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's association. The Uniontown contingent alone will have 150 men in the march, in addition to fire apparatus and a crack drum corps.

The business part of the convention has been completed and the remainder of the week will be given over to revelry and competition between the organizations from towns in western Pennsylvania.

East Pittsburgh will be the scene of next year's convention. The home of the Westinghouse factories won out over Ambridge, its only competitor, by a vote of 390 to 323.

Seven hundred firemen voted in the election of officers. Harry Musser of New Kensington was elected president by a vote of 381 to 359 for his opponent, George Dietrich, Monaca. Christ Becker of Stowe township, John Franco of Glendale and Fred Merringer of Cherry City were elected vice-presidents.

Medical Regiment Wins Field Meet

Intensive Training Is Again The Rule At Mount Gretna For Troops

(International News Service)

CAMP HENDERSON, Mount Gretna, Pa., Aug. 16.—Troops of the 55th infantry brigade returned to intensive training today following the huge relay and field meet conducted yesterday under the direction of Colonel William H. Oury, director of training.

The meet was won by the 103rd medical regiment, commanded by Colonel Edward M. Iland of Pittsburgh, with a total time of 14 minutes and 56 seconds for all events. In addition to the 103rd the 109th and 110th regiments competed.

This morning the battalions of the brigade, under Brigadier General Edward Martin of Washington, Pa., practiced with the infantry weapons, the rifle, machine gun, bayonet, pistol and hand grenade. They also worked on the squad, company and platoon combat problems on the combat rifle range adjoining the large rifle range. Service companies of the 109th and 110th infantries marched to the 75-foot range for rifle practice.

Major General William N. Haskell, commanding the 27th division New York National Guard, who is visiting the camp, was an interested observer of the training about the reservation. With Major General William G. Price of Chester, commander of the 28th division, he rode about the different areas and watched the soldiers under instruction.

The Reilly medal, which is presented during each encampment to the officer with the longest service in the guard, will be given this afternoon to Colonel George E. Kemp of Philadelphia, range officer here. Colonel Kemp has seen 45 years service in the National Guard, having enlisted in the first regiment in 1885.

K. Of C. Outing On August 29

Annual Picnic To Take Place At Park; Expect Large Crowd

Announcement was made today by John J. Maher, grand knight of St. Mary's council 512, Knights of Columbus, that Wednesday, August 29, had been set as the day for the annual outing of the council in Cascade park.

The outing has been deferred, owing to the supreme convention which is being held in Cleveland, O., next week. With the convention past, nothing is in the way of the outing and from indications it will be a splendid success.

Knights and ladies from Butler, Beaver valley, Youngstown, Sharon and other cities are expected here and the various committees working under the supervision of Stephen N. Griffith, lecturer, report splendid progress.

Brooklyn Police Nab Holdup Gang

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 16. — Pistols cracked early today just around the corner from Brooklyn police headquarters when five armed bandits invaded a delicatessen store and unexpectedly ran into a policeman there eating a sandwich, but ready to do battle with them. He did. A small army of detectives joined in and, after a mile auto chase in which two of the bandits and one of the sleuths were wounded, the entire hold-up band were captured.

Police said the five confessed staging twenty-five holdups of Brooklyn stores and garages in the last two months.

Four Games In Church League

Four fast games are billed tonight in the New Castle Church league. The games will start at 6:30 o'clock, Daylight Savings time.

The First Christians battle with the Grace and Congregational team at Scotland Lane. The Ceitral Presbyterians meet the Hakoah team at Colonial field. The Mahoning M. E. plays the Central Christians at Mahoningtown. The Epworth team tangles with the Croton M. E. team at Lehigh field.

Ask $20,000 From Driver Of Truck

(International News Service)

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Aug. 16.—Relatives of a woman and young man fatally injured when struck by a truck on the Darlington road near here some time ago, have damage suits totaling $20,000 on file in county courts today against the driver of the truck, Frank Domabyl, 35, of Cleveland, O. The victims of the accident were Mrs. Justine Gaydoes, 52, of Pittsburgh, and Arthur Sable, 19, of Detroit. A coroner's jury exonerated Domabyl at the inquest.

Police Report Phoney Check Passing Is Fraud

The "bum check" racket is being pulled in New Castle, but unsuccessfully because of the efforts of the local police department, says Chief Horner.

A few days ago, a man tried to purchase a tire from one of the automobile accessory stores, using the name of L. L. Swan and the Swan Furniture Company. He stated to the tire shop owner that he would send a boy over for the tire.

The boy came, but he had a check for $38.50, made out in the name of C. E. Wilson. The tire man refused to honor the check, and made a report to the police.

Later the same day, the "racket" was tried again, but unsuccessfully. Arrests in connection with the check passing are expected in the near future.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—A furious buying wave in American Can, National Cash Register, Packard Motors, International Nickel and other speculative favorites swept prices of these well known stocks to higher levels in the early trading today. Bullish leaders in Wall street hammered the bears relentlessly, with the aid of a huge influx of buying demand from the outside speculative points.

Wall street believes that the growing credit needs of the country in the fall business season would force Reserve Bank authorities to take the steps within their easy reach to increase the credit supply and ease up on borrowing rates for all classes of loans. Softening of the call loan rate to 5½ per cent this week was a straw showing the direction of the financial winds, and a further reduction is confidently expected before the end of the week. Meanwhile business and industrial reports of the day were uniformly favorable.

American Can's sharp advance through par for the first time in the present form was the feature of the industrial list. This represents a price of more than $600 a share for the stock, which has had a 525 point rise since 1922. Higher dividends in cash and possible new melon-cutting in the fall were rumored for the stock today. U. S. Steel and General Motors gained about a point each in active trading. Atlantic Refining rose 3 points on announcement of a new 1-cent increase in retail gasoline prices. The low-priced Stadard Oil stocks were in demand, with S. O. N. Y. the favorite, electrical and radio stocks in all markets rose buoyantly, with Westinghouse forging ahead to above 98. Chrysler Motors was under profit-taking in the second hour and declined about 2 points.

The call money rate at the Exchange money desk was marked up fractionally to 6 per cent, but funds were offered in the outside market at 5 per cent.

Ben Franklin Highway Project Is Discussed At Meeting Here Today

So that the Benjamin Franklin Highway may become as well known as the Lincoln and other national roads, a meeting of the Pennsylvania-Ohio section of the national Benjamin Franklin Highway Association, presided over by President C. E. Knapp of Lodi, O., took place at noon today in the lounge of The Castleton.

One of the first things that was done at the meeting was to affiliate the Ben Franklin Association with the National Highways Association. Then a campaign to promote interest in this trans-continental trail was discussed by those present.

President Knapp gave a short resume of the work done by the association during the last year, stressing the fact that the activities of the organization had been hampered seriously because of lack of funds. Ways and means to get money so that the work could be carried on this and next year were discussed, but at the morning session no definite conclusions had been reached. However, it is thought by most of the men present that a trained organizer will be employed to sell memberships, either on a straight salary or a commission basis.

At the present time the Ben Franklin Association offers a hard surfaced road from Atlantic City, N. J., to San Francisco, Cal. For several hundred miles New Castle is the largest city on the route, and naturally will be one of the main stopping points in this section of the route.

Those present at the meeting were: Elder Peelor of Indiana, Pa.; Charles E. Meals, Kittanning, Pa.; J. F. Miller, Vaughnsville, O.; George N. Burckhalter, Butler, Pa.; Herbert Pearis, New Castle; John L. Slack, New Castle; James M. Smith Jr., New Castle; Cort A. McDowell, Ottawa, O.; H. H. Mintoch, Leipsic, O.; Ira M. Ramsey, New Castle; the Hon. C. E. Knapp, president, Lodi, O.; W. Fred Wettling, secretary, Indiana, Pa.; James W. Cole, New Castle; Bob Garland, New Castle; George T. Weingartner, New Castle; Louis G. Genkinger, New Castle.

Potato Growers Make Farm Tour

Hundred And Fifty In Caravan Visiting Farms On Wednesday

STATE MEN TELL OF POTATO CULTURE

Over 150 potato growers and their wives and friends from Lawrence and Butler counties attended the potato growers field meet yesterday held under the direction of county agent, H. R. McCulloch.

E. L. Nixon, plant pathologist from Penn State college attended the meeting and explained the various phases of potatoe culture at each stop and answered questions concerning the raising and care of potatoes.

At the C. B. Patton farm on the Harlansburg road near New Castle, Mr. Nixon addressed the gathering on "Potato culture". He stressed the fact that in raising potatoes one must have good soil, good seed, careful spraying and a "potato mentality," or will and liking to raise potatoes.

Starts at Prospect

The procession of cars left Prospect and journeyed to the farm of Perry Davis where certified potatoes were growing. A field of sweet clover was seen here also that will be plowed under for potatoes next year.

The Charles B. Patton farm near New Castle was the next stop and here the growers saw a comparison between a field of certified seed and several rows of ordinary seed that was growing nearby. A field of alfalfa which will be plowed under as humus for next year's potato crop and the huge storage celler in the Patton barn were also on the sight seeing program. Lunch was eaten here and following that the address of Mr. Nixon.

The potato procession then moved to the farm of A. E. McCreary and sons of East Brook and then motored to the potato fields of Thomas Denniston of Slippery Rock. Potato fields of certified seed were seen at these latter farms. On the farm of Mr. Denniston the growers were able to see the difference in production of potatoes planted on a field sown with sweet clover and with soy beans. The sweet clover seemed to give the best results.

According to Mr. McCulloch, the field day was a decided success and growers hope that more of them are to come. More persons attended, said Mr. McCulloch, than we imagined would on account of the rushed work that the farmers are facing at the present time.

Philadelphia Police Ordered To Round-Up Suspicious Gangsters

Shooting Of Dan O'Leary Causes Drastic Action By Philadelphia Officials

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—Unrelenting warfare was declared today by Philadelphia detectives against gunmen, bootleggers and racketters as a result of he murder of Dan O'Leary yesterday.

Captain of Detectives Charles Beckman has ordered every available man on the city's police force to seek the gangsters and men known to have criminal records and bring them to city hall.

In a roundup last night, 15 suspicious characters were arrested, among them a man wanted for highway robbery and another believed to be an escaped convict. Three women suspects also were taken into custody but released after questioning.

The detectives are bending all their energies towards locating the pretty dark, 18-year-old girl who was with O'Leary at the time he was shot to death, probably in revenge for the murder a week ago of Hughey McLoon, former mascot of the Athletes.

It is believed she may have acted as a lure for O'Leary for she left with five gunmen who killed O'Leary as he slept.

McLoon is believed to have been the victim of an accident with the shots apparently meant for Wiliam Meister and Joseph Fries his companions.

Thieves Purloin Pair Of Trousers; Secure $235 Loot

A pair of pants, containing a pocket book with $235 in it, were taken from the home of W. K. Allison of 502 Whippo street about four o'clock this morning, it is reported to the New Castle police department.

On investigation, Officers Thompson and McKee found that entrance to the house had been gained through a bed room window. Nothing else was molested.

Mr. Allison thinks that as he was counting his money some one saw him through a window. Detective John Young is investigating the case today.

Mrs. Charles F. Flannery and son Wilbur, Grant street, have returned to this city after an extended visit to cities of the Pacific coast. They attended the tenth annual world's Sabbath school convention sessions at Los Angeles during the first part of July.

RABBI BLOOM HERE ON FRIDAY

Will Conduct Services At Temple Israel; Former Local Resident

Friday evening services in Temple Israel will be conducted by Rabbi Maurice Bloom of Newburg, N. Y., according to an announcement made today, Rabbi J. B. Menkes being out of the city.

Rabbi Bloom is a former New Castle man, having been confirmed in one of the classes of B'Nai Brith here several years ago by Rabbi Goldenson of Pittsburgh. Rabbi Bloom is one of the younger members of the rabbinate and is considered one of the outstanding men occupying pulpits today. He occupies the pulpit of the largest synagogue in Newburg, N. Y., and is a graduate of the Institute of Religion of New York of which the noted Rabbi Stephen S. Wise is the head.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the services in Temple Israel on Friday night.

Haid Expresses His Appreciation

Sends Letter To John J. Maher, Head Of Delegation In Tribute

In a letter received today by John J. Maher, who was chairman of the Harold Haid Day in Pittsburgh, Mr. Haid expresses his deep appreciation of the courtesy of the New Castle fans. He is delighted with the wrist watch given him and said that the flowers which were also given he had turned over to his wife.

Because of the necessity of the St. Louis team getting to the railroad station immediately after the game that day, it was impossible for Mr. Haid to see any of his old friends. Following the World Series, in which he expects St. Louis to participate, it is possible that Mr. and Mrs. Haid will visit New Castle.

Over 200 Persons On Grounded Liner

Several Ships Are In Vicinity Of Vessel Grounded Off Coast

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—While ships off the Lower California coast of Mexico sped today to the assitance of the Panama mail liner Ecuador on the rocks of Cape San Lazardo a check by company officials revealed that more than 200 persons are on board the stricken intercostal vessel.

The Ecuador grounded on the barren Mexican coast at 3:28 a. m. today, according to wireless messages picked up by the Mackay Federal Telegraph company. Latest advices stated that the vessel was resting easily and in no immediate danger. Several ships were in the vicinity and one was believed near the Ecuador whose master wirelessed assistance was needed to get off the rocks.

The passenger offices of the Panama mail line here said 69 passengers were aboard the vessel when she sailed from here Saturday for New York via the Panama Canal and that 36 were picked up at Los Angeles. The crew numbered 106 on this voyage it was said.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

These mardi gras affairs are great common denominators. Somehow or other people lose grouches the minute they get into crowds and treatment that would be responsible for a punch in the nose in other places, brings a laugh there.

Roamed around the mardi gras or celebration down on Maitland street last night and while it was a bit warm milling around, it was a lot of fun. I don't know how many people were there, about twice as many as there was room for, I'd guess.

Old folks and young folks, patriarchs and little people, the butcher, the baker and candle stick maker, all down there to join in the crush, listen to the band, drink red pop and listen to the barkers.

Most folks are rather particular who walks on their feet. But anybody who can't stand having their feet used for a parade ground had better stay away. With all the crowd there and all the pushing and milling around, there wasn't one that got mad, insofar as could be seen.

One might have thought he was in New Orleans in February when the mardi gras was held or in a little town in France when one of the feast days was being celebrated.

Lights and life and noise, a rumble of conversation and laughs almost drowning out the band, hats being pushed awry and white hose getting soiled in the mob and everybody enjoying it.

This is the season of the year when one gets the opportunity to hear what the best vacation is. Motor trips to Canada, fishing trips to the woods, golf trips to the mountains and trips to the shore.

No one has yet described what the best vacation is but a definition for it may be "the period of time when a person gets away from himself long enough to get refreshed enough to go back to the job rested."

Summer is beginning to pick at the coverlets. August is lengthening into September, some of the trees are beginning to show signs of gold where once it was all green. Labor Day looms up on the calendar and the stores are showing fall styles .The swimming suit will be in use just a little longer and the baseball fan is already talking world series. And just around the corner is football. There's always some compensation for seeing the summer depart.

And another sign of fall is the flower show of the Lawrence County Garden club which takes place next month. Fall roses and all the sisters and brothers of it heaped up in clusters and bouquets and showing you what Dame Nature has been doing all summer.

The State Highway Department has a new manual out showing the beauty spots of the state and giving a wealth of information on tours. In it are a number of articles by various people in the state, among them including J. Audley Boak of Lawrence county, master of the state grange.

It's a splendid booklet but I hope the next one says something about Western Pennsylvania. Of course the eastern part of the state has some beautiful scenery but who would say that we haven't some just as picturesque out this way. What about the Slippery Rock district, or the Narrows at East Brady, or some of the rolling highways leading into the Bog Sandy district around Franklin?

This is no complaint, for the book is a remarkable piece of work. But honestly folks some of the people in the eastern part of the state will imagine that Smithfield street in Pittsburgh is still an Indian reservation and that Altoona marks the frontier. They seem to have the idea that buffalo still run wild in this part of the state and that scalping an Indian is considered a good way to start the day.

Judge Turns Down $50,000 Cash Bail To Release Kelley

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—Superior Judge Douglas L. Edmonds Wednesday turned down Attorney S. S. Hahn's offer to put up $50,000 cash bail for the release of Leo P. Kelley, charged with the murder of Mrs. Myrtle Mellus.

After denying the defense bail motion, Judge Edmonds named Superior Judge Fletcher Bowron as the judge who will preside at the trial of Kelley on August 27.

The Way OF THE World

"EDUCATION FOR USEFULNESS"

The acting head of Chicago University, Frederick C. Woodward, makes a speech on the subject, "Education for Usefulness". That's a big topic and nobody knows exactly what to say about it. The distinction between the so-called "learned professions" and business is disappearing. Nearly 70 per cent of today's college graduates go into business. In the last 30 years college students have increased in number almost as fast as autos. It is fortunate there are some old-fashioned folks left who do not believe all education should be for usefulness. Culture for the sake of its effect on the individual is surely tremendously worth while. Let's not confuse education with mass production.

SCOTLAND YARD

Hughes, former police chief of Chicago, is probably right when he says British detectives would not know how to handle the crime situation in Chicago. Probably the famous Scotland Yard police of London would be seriously handicapped in any large American city. In Chicago, for example, there are more than 50 racial groups. Each group has its own way of looking at law and law enforcement. Furthermore, in America, the criminal knows that if he is arrested he can put up a long, tiresome and often successful fight to keep from being convicted. In England he is pretty sure that if he has committed a capital offense he will be hanged in three weeks. Conditions are much different, and the advantage is with Great Britain.

SHAW

It will be a big story for newspapers and for everybody hereabouts if George Bernard Shaw, brilliant and outspoken Englishman, really does come to America next year. The report is that he has accepted an invitation to visit Douglas and Mary Pickford Fairbanks in Hollywood. Shaw deserves his reputation. He is one of the few men who have courage to say what they think, anywhere, at any time. And he knows how to say it.

$20.24 MORE PROFIT From Each Acre of Wheat

HERE are facts, not claims. Facts about fertilizers from growers in this locality who will be glad to verify what they tell you here. Hershey Brothers, of Gorham, Ontario Co., N. Y., obtained a yield of 44 bushels of winter wheat per acre last season. This was an increase of 11 bushels over what they had ever obtained with other makes of fertilizer. Their wheat sold for seed at 20 cents a bushel premium. The increased yield plus the quality premium paid them an extra profit of $20.24 per acre.

Hershey Brothers say, in a letter dated August 4, 1927:

"With Bowker's Fertilizer ('AA QUALITY') we are many bushels ahead of farmers who buy other makes of fertilizer. We could buy from other agents who claim to have a good quality of fertilizer at less per ton. Our experience has taught us and we are not taking any chances on changing fertilizers. We have a demand for our products to be used for seeding. We do not care to experiment with other fertilizers. We know Bowker's Fertilizer is the best because our crops invariably are the first harvested, and sell at top prices."

Hundreds of similar cases prove that farmers who use "AA QUALITY" goods make more profit from every dollar invested in plant food. These extra profits make "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers by all odds the cheapest goods you can buy. Don't be misled into buying cheap fertilizers—don't buy fertilizer on the basis of chemical analysis alone. You may not be able to tell the difference, but your crops most certainly can.

Facts for Wheat Growers

From Mr. A. H. Lewis, North Cohocton, Steuben Co., N. Y.

"I, A. H. Lewis, farmer and dealer in horses and cattle, have used 'AA QUALITY' Fertilizer for the past two years and have been more than pleased with results. Your goods always come in fine mechanical condition, well-cured and in first-class drilling condition. This season I raised wheat which yielded 43 bushels per acre and is of fine quality. I used 500 lbs. of 'AA QUALITY' Fertilizer to the acre. I expect to continue to use 'AA QUALITY' Fertilizer, as I think it the best on the market."

August 13, 1927

You get bigger yields, better quality—and more profit—with "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers because these goods are made with painstaking care from the choicest plant-food materials, according to formulas which meet the exact needs of your soil. Every bag comes to you in superb mechanical condition—so fine, dry, and uniformly mixed that you get easy, even distribution. Each rootlet obtains a complete supply of the carefully selected plant foods necessary to carry your crop from seeding to maturity. This means better stooling, fuller heads, more bushels to the acre, more pounds to the bushel—and bigger profits.

You owe it to yourself to try "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers. See the nearby "AA QUALITY" dealer today.
